Future of Pontiac forests being decided by CAAFs

by Richard Wills

By the end of this month, contracts will be drawn up that will determine how the crown land forests of Pontiac are managed for the next quarter-century.

Contrats d'approvisionnement et d'aménagement forestiere, commonly known as CAAFs, are supposed to be signed by April 30th. The CAAFs represent the first-stage application of Bill 150, Quebec's forestry law of 1987.

The Quebec Ministry of Energy and Resources (MER) has set up a committee to deal with each forest company regarding management of crown lands. Locally, the first proposals were offered by the government last October.

Once a company signs its contract with the government, the company must devise a management plan for one year, five years, and 25 years.

The first of these management plans will come up for public review for a period of 45 days late in 1990.

Once all of the companies have settled with the government, they must get together among themselves to arrange for cooperative exploitation and management of these tracts.

"That's going to be interesting," says Michel Godbout, a Forester for the Woodlands Division of Stone-Consolidated, one of the companies competing for the cutting rights. Not only do the forestry companies have their own varied requirements, but they must also take into account the sharing of the forest with the Ministry of Hunting and Fishing, and the local ZEC's.

Sustainable yield

These long-term contracts with the various mills that are using wood out of Pontiac are intended to assure a sustainable yield from the county's crown land forests.

For pine stands, the method used to ensure regeneration is not replantation, but rather selective or "shelter" cutting. By this method, one-third of a stand of forest is cut every 20 years. The opening-up of the bush allows a mixed stand to grow back naturally.

According to Michel Godbout, Forester for Woodlands Division of Stone-Consolidated, this method is intended to produce "a forest that will last forever."

Replantation, he says, is only possible in certain areas, such as a pure spruce stand.

Sharing access

In all, some three-quarters of a million hectares of bush are up for grabs. Because of the mixed species in most local forests, various companies are vying for access to the different species within the same tract of land.

For example, Stone-Consolidated and Barette-Fortin may want all the white pine for sawlogs, while Stone's Portage mill would be wanting the hardwood pulp.

Companies from outside Pontiac, such as Canadian Pacific in Gatineau, might be bidding for spruce and balsam, while companies such as Poteaux in Masson would want the red pine.

Out the door

Some local forest workers are pessimistic about the future of the local forest industry under the new agreements.

One upper-Pontiac jobber has complained that as outside companies come into the area, the result will be a loss of jobs for local cutters and truckers.

"Jobs are slipping out the door and we don't even know about it," he said.

Alain Gosselin of the MER's Fort Coulonge office says that such fears are unfounded, that local workers have equal access to cutting rights. "It's important that we work with all the Outaouais region, not just the Coulonge area," he said.

Destroy the forest

Another local forest worker expressed concerns about the future of the bush itself, noting that in some recent plantations by local companies, a high percentage of the trees did not survive.

"They have a lot of things to learn," he said.

Others have also expressed concern about the lack of data about the potential of the local bush. The last overall survey was done in 1981.

"They don't really know what they've got out there, said one worker, "but they're giving it away anyway.

"They're going to destroy the forest – that's my fear," he said.

Now more control

Jacques Robitaille of the MER's Hull office, says that a new survey will be undertaken starting this year.

He disagreed that the government is giving away the control of managing the forest. The new law, he says, stipulates that companies have rights only to the amount of wood needed to run their mills, and they must practice sustained management.

"Before the law," he said "the companies had lots of rights but no obligations. Now there's more control. If they haven't done the management work we can cut their allocation," he said.

Robitaille also disagreed with the fears of job losses. The new contracts, he said, would create the potential for substantial growth in local forest companies.

Modifications

The government's proposals will be presented to all companies by April 1st. The companies will then have 30 days to sign.

The companies must submit the first three years of their management plan before the end of next year.

Ads will be placed in the local media announcing that the management plans are available at the Coulonge MER office for public scrutiny. If the plans have failed to take into account some aspect of co-operative use of the forest, proposals can be submitted suggesting modifications to the land use plan.

Four fine fiddlers. The Quyon Fiddlers regrouped for a few tunes during the St Patrick's Day celebrations at Gavan's on March 18th. Heartfelt tribute to Lennox Gavan highlight of St Paddy's Day in Quyon

by Richard Wills

Despite a few flurries of snow, the streets of Quyon took on a decidedly greenish hue on Sunday, March 18th, for the town's annual St Patrick's Day celebrations.

Hotelkeeper Lennox Gavan organized the first St Patrick's celebration in this lower Pontiac town in 1952. Since then, Quyon has become well-known for its Irish celebrations.

Gavan passed away a few days after last year's celebration, so the main feature of the 1990 observances was a tribute to the man who personified the Irish tradition in Pontiac.

A poetic reminisence to Lennox was read by Ottawa Vally folklorist Bernie Bedore. Daughter Gail Gavan sang a song composed in her father's memory, and the Quyon fiddlers re-convened for a session that recalled the old days when Lennox held court in the hotel.

There were enough singers and steppers in town to keep non-stop music and dancing going in both the Gavan's and Fairbanks hotels, as well as at the Legion hall.

The much sought-after Jug O'Punch was the musical mainstay at Gavan's, while Howard Hayes and his band held down the fort across the street at Fairbanks'. Both hotels were hopping with lively dancers all afternoon and evening.

Unity-Equality delegates chosen

by Richard Wills

At meetings held in Shawville and Aylmer on March 18th and 19th, the Pontiac Unity-Equality Party selected 12 delegates to attend the Party's April 22nd policy convention in Montreal.

12 from Pontiac Riding

At the March 18th Shawville assembly, Sandra Murray, Barrie Murray and Don Paul, all of Shawville, were chosen as delegates. Lloyd Perry of Quyon, president of the Unity Party in the Pontiac riding, automatically serves as a delegate. Lawrence Stafford and Faye Stafford of Campbell's Bay were also chosen, giving the Party more of an all-Pontiac representation.

At the March 19th meeting in Aylmer, the delegate roster was rounded out with six delegates from that town. In addition to Frank Therrien, Michael Ray, and Mr and Mrs Richard Litvenchuck, Vice President Bud Moore and Secretary Margaret Cotie were automatically chosen.

TB testing continues at McDowell

by Richard Wills

On March 19th, nurses from the Pontiac CLSC returned to McDowell Elementary School in Shawville to test over 200 students and teachers for tuberculosis.

The skin-injection tests administered on Monday were given as a follow-up to identical tests performed on the same group last November.

This program was initiated after a student at the school was found last fall to have tuberculosis.

According to the CLSC nurses, the student contracted the disease from a family member. "It is very, very rarely transmitted from one child to another," said Nurse Doreen Dionne. "It is more commonly passed on from an adult to a child."

The father's illness was at first thought to be pneumonia, but was discovered to be a re-activation of tuberculosis.

The child's father reported the case to the CLSC, and it was decided that tests should be performed on anyone at the school who might have had contact with the infected child.

Disease eliminated

Since the epidemic days of a generation ago, said the nurses, tuberculosis has been "nearly eliminated, like smallpox."

Anyone who underwent the "back-scratch" tests of the time would now test positive for the disease, they said, because of the presence of the BCG vaccine in their system.

However, these tests were discontinued some years ago, when the danger of an epidemic was seen to have passed.

Chest X-rays

When the first tests were done at McDowell in November, some of those who got skin tests were also given chest X-rays at the same time, before the results of the skin test were available.

The CLSC nurses express some surprise that the Departement santé communautaire (DSC) in Hull had called for X-rays at that stage of testing. "Usually they only give X-rays for those who have a positive reaction to the skin test," said Dionne.

Normal

"It's normal to have skin test and X-rays together," said Donald Déry, Infectious Diseases Co-ordinator at the DSC.

After approximately 50 X-rays had been given, an overload at the X-ray department of Pontiac Community Hospital in Shawville forced a decision to discontinue the blanket X-rays, and rely on skin tests to screen out those infected.

"There is a 90 percent chance all the tests will be negative," said Déry. "If there is an infection, it is very easy to deal with."

Fire claims home near Quyon

Quyon and Luskville volunteer firemen responded to a call at 6:40 am on March 15th reporting a house fire at the D & G Ranch on the Carcajou Road between Quyon and Beechgrove.

Only eight minutes later they were on the scene, but the combined efforts of both the Quyon and Luskville detachments were unable to save the house.

No one was injured. The house was occupied by Emile and Dianne Ethier and four children, aged three and one-half to nine.

Emile was gone to work and Diane was next door at the neighbours' when one of the children summoned her home and called the fire department.

"It was out of control when we got there," said Fireman Tom Murdock. "There was not a lot we could do."

In spite of the efforts of 20 firefighters, two firetrucks, equipment van and several pumps, there was nothing that could be done to save the structure.

Murdock estimated that the crew pumped 30,000 gallons of water onto the house.

"Hydro responded pretty quickly (to shut off the power), said Fire Chief Leo Ladouceur. "They did a good job."

He says that police investigators suspect faulty wiring as the cause of the fire.

By this week the family has reportedly relocated near Beechgrove.

Bryan Murray picked to coach Team Canada

It was offically announced on March 20th that Shawville's Bryan Murray has been chosen as one of the coaches for Team Canada at the 1990 world championship that starts on April 16th in Bern, Switzerland.

Bryan Murray coached the Washington Capitals of the NHL from 1981 until January of this year, when he was replaced by his brother Terry.

According to Bill Murray of Shawville, the Team Canada job had been in the works for the past couple of weeks. Bryan will be assisting Dave King in his new position.

In spite of their speedy response, Quyon and Luskville firemen were unable to save the Ethier home at D & G Ranch near Quyon.

PEP pursuing recycling projects

On March 19th, Marilee Delombard, Secretary of the Pontiac Environmental Protection group (PEP) attended a program in Chelsea dealing with the prospect of organizing local recycling projects.

Recycling groups have recently been formed in Chelsea and Wakefield, and PEP is interested in seeing this trend spread into Pontiac.

Among the speakers for the evening were West Hull Mayor Judy Grant, and Rick Wallace, one of the founding members of Pollution Probe. About 60 people attended, and all expressed enthusiasm about the possibilities of intiating recycling at the grassroots level.

To encourage community participation in the Environment Fair planned for this June, the executive of Pontiac Environmental Protection (PEP) has prepared a glossary of terms related to the Fair's theme of local recycling.

It is clear now that most Canadians are concerned about the degradation of the environment. Many are prepared to do their bit to help, especially if they knew where to begin. Pollution Probe has come out with a book, The Canadian Green Consumer Guide, which is an excellent collection of information and ideas for individual action. It is helpful at the beginning to understand some of the terms that have developed in environmental studies as problems have been identified and solutions have been found.

Green Consumer: A person who makes consumer choices with the health of the global environment in mind.

Environmentally friendly or Planet-friendly products: Products that conserve energy, are recycled or are recyclable, are biodegradable and are free of ozone-depleting substances."This is the definition given by the Environment Canada program whose responsibility it is to certify products which qualify for the "Ecologo" seal of approval.

Energy conservation: Many energy experts now regard energy efficiency, or energy conservation, as a "source" of energy. Estimates suggest that by preventing energy loss (eg. insulating) and using more efficient appliances we could trim our energy use by 25%. "A study by the World Resources Institute suggests that conservation and efficiency measures could cut the industrialized world's carbon emissions in half; presumably, similar happy reductions in other pollutants would follow, too." (The Canadian Green Consumer Guide, p. 25.) The "other pollutants" include nuclear waste, and problems of flooding for power dams.

Recycled and Recyclable: Recycled means that the item is made from used materials (recyclables) which have been reprocessed to make something "new", like drain pipe from plastic bottles, or paper from de-inked newspapers. Something that is "recycled" is therefore more environmentally valuable than something that is "recyclable" because it has had more energy invested in it. Recycling is not new – the traditional crafts of pieced quilts and braid rugs are based upon recycling.

A recycling program: involves the collection of particular waste materials, such as newspaper, glass, plastic, "tin", and transporting them to a recycling plant where they are transformed. Separating the materials at "the source" is the most efficient recycling system, an example is the Blue Box program in Ontario. A more primitive approach is to separate the recyclables from the rest of the garbage once it has been transported. This system produces much more "terminal waste" that has to be landfilled.

Re-Use. Reusing is direct recycling. It means getting many uses from an item without expending energy in transforming the original item. For example, returnable pop bottles or using cottage cheese containers to store leftovers.

Biodegradable: An item that will break down within a short period of time when exposed to nature, usually through the process of composting. Food wastes, leaves, shredded paper, and soap are examples of biodegradable materials.

"Biodegradable soap" is a term that has been used to indicate a product that does not contain detergents.

Detergents are not biodegradable because they pass through the sewage system without breaking down. They end up in waterways where they become fertilizer for algae which kill off fish by consuming all the available oxygen.

"Biodegradable plastics" are still being questioned as to their environmental impact. In their manufacture, the plastic is weakened by the addition of starch, so 5-10% more plastic must be added to strengthen the bag. When disposed, the starch is eaten by bacteria and the plastic breaks down.

Composting: A process that converts organic wastes (animal and plant material) into a soil conditioner and fertilizer. Composting transforms organic wastes through heat, chemical, and microbal processing, much as a recycling plant transforms plastic milk bottles into plastic crates.

Many of the problems in the environment are the result of the lack of good waste management. "Out of sight, out of mind" was the operative thinking, until we realized that there is no more "out of sight" left. It's just basic good housekeeping. If you keep sweeping it under the rug you will eventually fill up the room. And, as Henry David Thoreau said "What good is a house if you haven't got a tolerable planet to put it on?"

The Wyman Women's Institute meeting was held at the home of Margaret Storie, with Helena Craig assisting hostess.

The meeting was opened with recitation of the Collect and singing of the Ode.

Our motto was Waste Note- Want Not.

The minutes were read, followed by the treasurer's report and convenor reports.

A very interesting report was read by the treasurer on the Environment and Recycling. Let each one of us do our share for cleaner air and better health.

A poem was ready by Kay Ross entitled An Old Fashioned woman.

The meeting closed with Grace, after which a delicious lunch was served.

Coons and fans off to Mexico

The popular Ottawa Valley band Raccoons on Ice will be travelling to Manzanillo, Mexico next week for a one-week stint at the Los Angelos Locos resort.

The band plus two support staff will be joined by 14 fans from the Valley for a few days of sun 'n music on the Pacific coast running from March 29th to April 5th.

Band members discovered the spot while on vacation in January, and dicided it would be a good idea to take the band's Ottawa Valley style party music down south of the border.

Olé, eh?

WE HAVE THE RIGHT ANSWER

Advertisers who want to place their print ads in a quality publication ask the question: "Is your circulation audited?"

We're very proud to answer "Yes."

We are a member of the Audit Bureau of Circulations because we share ABC's belief that circulation audits are an essential assurance of value.

ABC is the premier circulation auditing organization in the world, and has been since 1914. Each year, ABC auditors test and verify that our circulation figures are facts, not claims. An ABC audit is the sign of a sound investment for advertisers.

Not all publications are audited, but they should be. Because when advertisers ask "Is your circulation audited?" there's only one answer.

"Yes."

Michael Robinson, teacher in the Developmental Centre at McDowell School in Shawville, helps students Thomas Tanquay and Melissa Belland with a specialized computer keyboard pad for developmentally handicapped children. Equipment similiar to this will be purhased with the help of local donations to the Easter Seal Campaign.

1990 Easter Seals campaign to benefit local centre

McDowell School's Developmental Centre will receive all of the local funds generated by this year's Easter Seals Campaign.

Easter Seals is a charity designed specifically to help crippled children. The fundraising is carried on by local organizations – in this area the Rotary Club – and one-half of all donations remain in the local area. In the past, the Rotary Club has assisted crippled children from Otter Lake, Vinton, Portage du Fort, and the Shawville-Clarendon and Bristol areas.

According to Rotary president Clarence Wilson, his Club sees helping the developmental centre as the kind of charity that Easter Seals was designed for. "By helping the Centre, we're able to concentrate our resources in an area where they can benefit a great many children," said Wilson. "One piece of equipment in the centre makes it available to all, and we could never afford to help each individual child in his or her home", he added.

Sharon Halligan, principal of McDowell School, is very happy with the Club's decision. "We're always pleased when local service clubs support our centre. Everything is so expensive that school and Board budgets could never provide all that we'd like and need – yet, for these students, you could never consider anything as a 'frill' ", she added.

The school will use these extra funds to purchase special attachments for computers which will enable handicapped students to operate the computer by blinking their eyes or by using special rods attached to head bands.

Campaign organizer David Conrod wishes that everyone could see the determination these children apply to overcoming their handicaps and the help given them by their teachers and aides. According to Mr Conrod, "If we could put people in the classroom for just a few hours, our campaign would be a huge success."

The McDowell Developmental Centre serves elementary age students from all of the Pontiac and, as a regional centre, serves both Protestant and Roman Catholic students. It is set up to serve the needs of students with physical and intellectual handicaps.

Pink envelopes containing Easter Seals should be in mailboxes in some municipalities soon. Those who do not receive envelopes may make a donation to: Easter Seals, Shawville Rotary Club, c/o David Conrod, Box 656, Shawville. Receipts will be sent to those who request them.

St Mary's CWL

On March 13th, 18 members of the St Mary's Catholic Women's League in Quyon, gathered to assist Mass at 7 pm. Grace Gibbons and Colombe Fortin carried the offertory gift Ada Daley and Betty Verner did the readings.

Father Garry opened the meeting in prayer.

The president's message was an expression of appreciation.

Correspondence was read by Claire included thank you notes from Mary Ann and Allen Mayhew, Gerry Radey, and the Griffin family.

Treasurer Pat Trudeau gave the financial report.

Spiritual convenor Eleanor reported on the highlights of the Cobden Convention. Six ladies from St Mary's attended. It was a most inspiring event.

Christian Family Life convenor Betty reported that four CWL members were personally presenting a brief on protest abortion in Parliament. Father spoke briefly on this topic.

A bake sale will be held on March 17th.

A quilt was on display made by the members.

Frances Leach donated a beautiful runner of Polish pattern in linen for a draw to be held at the bake sale. Rick Poirrier's store donated a centrepiece, a lovely basket of goodies, toward the bake sale fund.

June 2nd is World Day of Prayer.

The president, as well as Father Garry, expressed thanks to the many members who turned out at Karen McCann's funeral as guard of honour.

It was suggested that members meet at the wake in a body and say the Rosary, the evening before the funeral.

A very beautiful cake trimmed in green with Happy Anniversary 24 to Fr Cain was enjoyed.

Helena Beattie and Loretta Hickey were hostesses with arrangements symbolic to St Patrick's Day. It was quite unique.

The next meeting is April 10th. Father will have a film on the Passion of Our Lord.

Local Unity-Equality delegates stress agriculture, environment

This dozen from the Pontiac riding will attend the provincial policy convention in Montreal on April 22nd, where the merger of the Unity and Equality Parties will become a reality. An unofficial merger was signed in February by the 16 Unity riding presidents and the 19 Equality presidents.

Once the merger becomes official later this week, the April 22nd convention will see the two parties acting as one, with 35 ridings represented. The combined party will operate under the Equality name.

Quite a difference

Perry is looking forward to both groups having full input in all decision regarding the policy of the new party. "It's going to make quite a diffence," he said.

Perry feels that Equality's present platform, which emphasizes youth, seniors and culture and communities, is "okay for the island of Montreal, but we feel that from a rural point of view, agriculture and environment also deserve a high priority."

Indications from party executive, including MNA Robert Libman, are that the chances are good for the incorporation of Pontiac's suggestions.

The Unity Party achieved a remarkable success in last September's provincial election, where Pontiac candidate Mark Alexander received two-thirds as many votes as Liberal Robert Middlemiss.

Running on a similar platform stressing minority language rights, the Equality Party succeeded in electing four members to the National Assembly.

St Alphonsus CWL

The regular meeting of the St. Alphonsus CWL was held on March 6, 1990 with 12 members present. The meeting was opened by the president Joan Sallafranque. Prayers were led by Father Alf Harrington. Mrs Mary Nadeau read a passage from the scripture. Singing was led by Sister Pauline who also accompanied on the piano. Roll call and the minutes were read and the president read the correspondance. Louise Allard read the financial report. Convenors handed in their reports.

A report was made about the chocolate drive that we are in the middle of - if sales keep up like they have been we should be finished with this drive by the last of March - we will then have our funds that we need to made the Convention that will be held here in May a success.

Mrs Katie Phelan is collecting donations to make a souvenir kit to give to the people who will be attending the convention.

Dora Tremblay is to make a satin pillow to carry the crest on for the Convention May 26.

The Parish Supper is scheduled for September 23rd, 1990.

Our 60th Anniversary Celebration is set for October 20th - mass will be celebrated at 5:00 p.m. that day with a meal to follow.

Due to lent we served only juice after our meeting.

YOUR 1989 INCOME TAX RETURN

PEOPLE WITH QUESTIONS

WHERE CAN I GO FOR HELP WITH MY TAX RETURN?
At tax time, many people have questions about how to complete their return and what information slips to include. The first place to look for answers is the General Tax Guide that comes with your return. It gives you step-by-step instructions, and helpful tax tips. But if you still have questions, Revenue Canada offers a variety of services to help you.

WHAT KIND OF SERVICES ARE AVAILABLE?
Revenue Canada offers phone enquiry services with extended hours during the peak tax return weeks. Check the back pages in your General Guide for numbers and hours in your region. For people who require special assistance, there's a program in which volunteers, trained by Revenue Canada personnel, help those who can't leave their home. There's a special toll-free number listed in the General Guide for people with hearing disabilities, using a Telephone Device for the Deaf, and there are audio and large print guides for those who require them.

WHAT GUIDES DO I NEED?
Revenue Canada produces a variety of special guides for people with different income situations. There's an employment expenses guide, a guide for pensions and one for new Canadians, to name a few. Check the list in your General Guide. If there's one you need, contact your District Taxation Office or call the special "request for forms" number listed there.

WHY SHOULD I FILL OUT THE GREEN FORM?
The proposed Goods & Services Tax, now before Parliament, has two main objectives: to make Canada more competitive and to improve the fairness of the tax system for all Canadians. The plan includes a new credit to offset part or all of the tax for lower or modest income households. To find out if you qualify, fill out the green form that comes with your 1989 tax package. Even if you don't have to pay income tax, it's important that you send in the green form. If you qualify for the Goods & Services Tax Credit, you could receive credit cheques every three months, starting this December 1990.

WHAT IF I HAVE QUESTIONS?
Check your General Tax Guide. It has most of the answers you'll need. If you still have questions, contact your local District Taxation Office by phone or in person, and talk to the people at Revenue Canada Taxation. They're People with Answers.

The evolution of languages

Anyone fortunate enough to have been present in Quyon over the St Patrick's Day weekend might have noticed that, for that time at least, it was a trilingual village. In addition to the English and French commonly heard on the streets, there were the occasional strains of another tongue lilting through the streets. It was Gaelic.

Talk about your endangered speeches. Whatever happened to that venerable vernacular that once formed the basis of communication in the ancestral homeland of a sizeable portion of Pontiac's people?

Once the dominant language among the Celts living in the British Isles, Gaelic was pushed northward and westward with the invasion of those savage norsemen, the Anglo-Saxons. These invaders spoke a Germanic language of northern Europe that formed the basis of old English. When it came on the scene, it was said that the English language "arrived in Britain on the point of a sword." The indigenous dialect then disappeared, to live a long but quiet life in Ireland, Scotland and Wales. There it has been stubbornly preserved by the local people, who have successfully pressed the government for bilingual signs, both in English and their native tongue.

But even the dominating English language did not reign supreme for long. After overtaking Britain, it was itself conquered by none other than the invading French Normans in 1066. Their influence on the evolution of what we now call English was profound. It has been said that if it had not been for the Norman conquest, English people would now be speaking a dialect more similar to modern-day Dutch. For generations after, all positions of influence in Britain were held by francophones. That is why to this day, it is common for anglophones to borrow French phrases to affect an air of sophistication. Still, the English language survived and flourished, largely because of its hybrid nature.

It just goes to show that the English-speaking people will steal from whomever they can. An unabashed plunderer, this mongrel tongue is now a patchwork quilt of borrowed elements. The only thing more surprising than the range of its sources is the range of its influence. When the Voyager One space probe was sent into the farthest reach of heaven in 1977, the first message it carried to the eager extra-terrestrials from the Secretary General of the United Nations, was in English.

The problem with English becoming so ubiquitous is that it leaves anglophones with so little work to do. They can sit back and presume that anywhere in the world they can be served in their own language. The result is the sort of anglo-arrogance that the British and Americans have become so famous for.

But left to chart their own course through the evolution of language and culture, Canadians are at liberty to discard the fetters of Old World tradition and find more important things to argue about, such as which policeman is wearing the proper hat.

Tradition is essentially retrospective. It can serve to tell people where they have come from, but it should not restrict where they can go. It is better suited to serve as a good excuse for celebration, just like the one they have down in Quyon every year about this time.

GLOBE '90

GLOBE '90 is an international, Vancouver-based conference (March 19-23) with a topical, global theme: sustainable development and its associated government and business opportunities.

"GLOBE' is an acronym representing Global Opportunities for Business and the Environment.

The conference, planned as a result of the World Commission on Environment and Development (WCED) in 1984, is designed "to promote the implementation of practical solutions to meet the challenge of achieving sustainable development, and to identify the business opportunities associated with meeting this challenge".

Chaired by former Prime Minister of Norway, Dr Gro Harlem Brundtland, the WCED produced its now-famous report Our Common Future (commonly known as The Brundtland Report). The report stressed the importance of recognizing and strengthening interrelationships between the environment and the economy in order for sustainable development to grow.

One recommendation of the WCED was for biannual international conferences to provide a platform whereby governments, international agencies, financial institutions, industry and environmental advocates could work together to define strategies, policies and opportunities consistent to the protection of the global environment.

GLOBE '90 is the first such conference. Perhaps significantly, Dr Brundtland is the keynote speaker.

Our world is facing a crisis with its unprecedented urban and industrial growth.

Fundamental changes in our approach to social and economic development is long overdue. Both government and industry realize that a reactive approach to environmental problems is inadequate. "Leadership is required at both the political level in terms of policy and legislation, and with industrial development in terms of providing technologies, services and products that promote sustainable growth."

GLOBE '90 addresses the two inter-dependent issues of government leadership and industrial technologies: the conference is planned in two parts: international business trade fair and workshop-based seminars.

Trade Fair

GLOBE '90 provides a significant opportunity for business to demonstrate their environmentally safe products, services, technologies and research.

Over 500 exhibitors are participating in the trade fair. Included in the exhibitor list are Morris Industries of North Vancouver with their disc oil/water separators; aersol recycling and disposal equipment from AMA, Federal Republic of Germany; and municipal solid waste disposal systems from Dynavest International, St Louis, Missouri. Quebec, is represented by at least one industry: Les Industries Fournier, Inc., of Black Lake show their rotary press for dewatering of municipal and industrial sludges.

Conference Workshop Format

Over 400 international speakers are presenting information and leading seminars on 18 program streams, including agriculture, good processing, energy, oil and gas, chemicals, tourism, forest/pulp and paper.

The focus of the conference is to discuss practical solutions to environmental challenges in a "hands-on workshop" approach. Presentations of case studies, environmental legislation, urban development, global issues, market opportunities for business and the role of the public are all to be examined.

As an example, the food processing workshop addresses issues of significance to us all, in the capacity of end-user consumers. However, businesses involved in this major industry face monumental challenges.

Discussion topics center around three main areas: production, packaging and marketing. Within these three divisions are major issues such as non-polluting processing techniques, ozone and food processing, solid and liquid waste management and recover; the design of recyclable and biodegradable packaging, consumer disposal and recycling of packaging; green products and new market opportunities.

The Challenge of GLOBE '90.

GLOBE '90 is an international appeal for cooperative commitment to the environment.

The conference provides a platform for international sharing between business, government, international agencies and environmental advocates.

It is an attempt to foster a spirit of cooperation between nations to work together to define the opportunities inherent in sustainable development.

As such, the conference offers a positive, proactive meeting place for our global leaders in government, industry and the private sector.

Letters to the Editor

How strong is Quebec economy?

Dear Editor:

Lately businesspersons, who should know better, are issuing political and economic statements about the strength of the Quebec economy. I wish,in response, to review some facts concerning its distinct mediocrity.

According to Statictics Canada, in 1988, provincial GDP per person (in $000) are as follows: Northwest Territories 32.1, Yukon 27.4, Alberta 26.1, Ontario 25.9, British Columbia 21.9, Quebec 21.6, Manitoba 20.0.

Unemployment, per province, in December 1989 (in %) is as follows: Ontario 5.5, Saskatchewan 7.0, Alberta 7.0, Manitoba 7.7, British Columbia 8.4, Quebec 9.6, Nova Scotia 10.3. The Quebec jobless rate was 10.5% in January 1990.

Farmers are expected to suffer as Quebec agricultural minister Michel Page warns of a drop in farm handouts of $100 million causing farm revenues to decline 9.4%. The trend to fewer, bigger farms will continue with the best-managed farms surviving.

When measured in terms of real purchasing power, Canada enjoys the 2nd highest standard of living next to the USA. We should not allow the quality of life we enjoy to be threatened by concentrating on those few in Canada that only too loudly deny the definite progress that cooperation has advanced in the past decades. The fundamental compromise that forges our Canadian identities is the protection from the U.S. melting pot necessary or the multiple enjoyment of English, French and other cultures such as found only in Canada. That said, we deserve better than the unclear terms of Meech Lake and the intolerance of Bill 178.

Community teacher

While we have glimpsed at how young people and their families interacted to make up the social fabrique of the Pontiac's farm and village communities, let me introduce another important dimension.

Every year about this time, the school commissioners in each of the near one hundred and twenty schools in Pontiac and Eardley Townships hired a new teacher for the upcoming school year.

In the early days, the commissioners had little, if any education; it was the secretary who was paid a small stipend who was literate.

The commissioners had one thing in common and that was that they wanted their own as well as their neighbour's children to have advantages in education that they did not.

Advertisements were sent out early to graduates from several halls of learning, normal schools, colleges and to individuals far and near. These letters would stipulate the geography of the area like the distance from the nearest village or train station, expected number of children to attend, grades to teach, distance from available boarding place, Christian religion of school and teacher's religion, extracurricular duties, such as organizing choirs, agricultural activities, participating in social and church groups, picnics along with a complete curriculum vitae and salary demanded.

The ultimate choice of next year's teacher depended on how the applicants responded, like wages required, age, experience and last but not least, her marriage status.

Single girls were given priority, all other requirements being equal.

The leading prospect was notified and if she was already hired elsewhere they would to to the next on the list. Finally after several meetings, a new teacher is hired. Social and telephone groups would then try to pick holes in the new appointment.

The teacher settled into her new school and community. If the teacher is an old veteran, she had little trouble establishing new rules and regulations in the one or four-room country or village schools. If it was the teacher's first year, she might stumble and have to re-establish herself several times during the first few weeks of school. The era of the one-room school stretches from the 1840's to the 1940's and the four-room village schools from the 1870's to the 1940's.

Children walked up to three or four miles to school in those days to get their basic and perhaps entire education. In the farming community with its big families, the ambition of each family was to have at least one child go on to higher education and ultimately into a profession. If one studies the families in any community, you could expect to find one in at least 70% of the families went on to be a doctor, lawyer, dentist, economist, clergyman, nurse, teacher or some other profession.

Let's stop here and next week find out the real dynamics of bringing a new teacher into the community every year.

Open letter to Bourassa

Outaouais Alliance's views on Meech Lake

Mr Robert Bourassa
Premier ministre du Québec
Edifice J
885 est, Grande Allée
Québec (Québec)
G1A 1A2

Dear Premier Bourassa,

Outaouais Alliance is a community association which represents the interests of English-speaking Canadians as a minority language group in West Quebec. We have a volunteer board of 18 directors who are from all walks of life. They are in constant touch with the opinion leaders of their respective communities and have noticed with increasing alarm a breakdown of the harmony that has traditionally existed between the two language groups.

At a recent meeting of the Board of Directors, it was a concensus view that this apparent divisiveness is the direct result of the lack of recognition of the duality of the nation by the political leadership across the country and the discussions of the Meech Lake Accord being reduced to a Yes or No decision.

With the 23 of June deadline for the ratification of the Accord rapidly approaching, the Board of Directors feels compelled to express our community's concerns and demand that they be considered by persons of good will and firm resolve.

Outaouais Alliance believes that the Meech Lake Accord has serious flaws. We urge all parties involved to address these flaws with a view to achieving lasting national unity. We insist that you, Mr Premier, assume a strong leadership role in this regard.

Outaouais Alliance believes that the Accord can be improved if the following is considered.

Recognizing Quebec as a distinct society is best suited to the preamble. At present it is found in an interpretive clause, which has generated much of the confusion and negative feeling about the Accord. The uncertainty which this clause has generated within our community cannot be overstated.

The parties to the Accord should declare unequivocally the supremacy of the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms. The agreement confirms the protection of charter rights for multicultural and aboriginal groups. We believe that the protection of such rights should be extended to all, and that the guarantees of lingusitic and cultural rights should never be open to question.

The governments of Canada and the Provinces already give tacit support to the idea of a bilingual nation. We believe that they should take this one step further and declare explicitly their commitment.

Outaouais Alliance is sceptical of the support for English-speaking Quebecers from without the province. It appears to be founded on the denial of Quebec's distinctive character and only succeeds in being divisive. Recent decisions by communities to declare themselves officially unilingual-English have done nothing to further linguistic harmony in our community, our province and our country.

Also, we reject the notion advanced by Richard Hatfield, former premier of New Brunswick, and others, that English-speaking Quebecers must assume much of the blame for the present stand-off with respect to the Accord because of their determined opposition to Bill 178. The Meech Lake Accord is a creature of politicians; its fate rests with them.

We charge you therefore, Mr Premier, to participate in discussions which will result in acceptable constitutional reform for our province and country. We ask you to demonstrate an openness to other provincial premiers by making the move to bring all parties together to resolve the impasse.

Yours truly
Robert K May,President
Outaouais Alliance

An NFB Film on farm women is to be telecast on CBC's "Country Canada" Sunday, March 25, at 1:00 p.m. "In Her Chosen Field," a half-hour documentary written and directed by Barbara Evans, pays tribute to the important contribution of farm women to the agricultural community. It profiles farm women from various parts of Canada who range in age from the thirties to seventy. They run a variety of family farm operations - mixed farming, wheat farming and dairy farming. Farm women support and lobby groups are working to improve the social, economic and legal concerns of farm women. One of their primary goals is adequate child care. While "In Her Chosen Field" tackles some of the critical issues facing today's farm women, it also conveys their love for the land and articulates their determination to hold onto their farms, their heritage and their legacy.

Last week's warm weather seems to have encouraged migrating birds to return to their summer habitats. Elzabeth Firobin of Ladysmith has reported to The Equity that she has seen a pair of bald eagles. Other birdsightings have included a blue heron flying over Sand Bay and flocks of male red-winged blackbirds in the fields.

Consolidated. Mr Douglas E Covey has been named manager of Consolidated Pontiac Inc, a subsidiary of Consolidated Paper Corporation Ltd, to run the new pulp mill in Litchfield.

The $80,000,000 mill will have an initial productive capacity of about 500 tons per day of beached kraft pulp, but there is wood available to support a production of 900 tons a day.

Realizing that there will be a growing surplus of pulp capacity in the next few years, Consolidated is providing a market for a major part of this mill's output by acquiring interests in non-integrated pulp-using mills and thus attaining a greater product diversification in new markets within Canada, the U S and Europe.

Bristol Mines. Ron Geddes and Bill Kratz were hosts to the students and teachers of grades five, six and seven at St Edward School, Bristol Mines last Friday. The occasion was the showing of a film supplied by Jack Sherwin.

Mr Geddes started proceedings with a short talk on the operation of the Hilton Mine, and after the film was shown both Mr Geddes and Mr Kratz answered questions about it.

Senior Hockey. The Shawville Pontiacs held a 2-1 lead in the best-of-seven final series in the Algonquin Senior Hockey League after last week's 5-3 and 4-3 wins over the Pembroke Flyers. Last night the Flyers were much hungrier, and defeated the Pontiacs 5-2 to cut the series game count to 2-1.

Ed Pare, Glen Richardson, Royce Richardson, Bob Findlay, Ivan Saunders, Earl Powell, Carson Ryan, Bryan Murray were responsible for this week's goals for Pontiac.

Minor Hockey. The Pontiac Minor Hockey Tournament was played last Saturday at Shawville. In the Mosquito finals, Quyon beat Shawville 4-3, with Gary Trudeau, Billy Russett, and Jimmy Foran (2) scoring for Quyon; and Paul Hodgins and Charles Argue scoring for Shawville.

The Atom title went to Calumet Island 5-0 over Quyon. Bobby Gauthier scored three goals for the victors, with Jean Marc Lepine getting two.

Bryson won the Pee Wee finals 1-0 over Shawville, with Paul Lanoix scoring.

Shawville won the Bantam final 2-1 over Calumet Island, with Mike Allen and Eric Newton scoring for Shawville; C Gauthier for Calumet Island.

Regional Board. Calumet Island, Campbell's Bay, Clarendon, Leslie, Mansfield, Onslow, Portage du Fort, Thorne and Waltham Protestant School Boards have all posted resolutions signifying their intentions of joining the Ottawa Valley Regional School Board.

Pontiac Telephone. The 52nd shareholders' meeting of the Pontiac Rural Telephone Co was held on March 8th, with about 35 present. At the present time there have been 1200 telephones placed on the dial system, with about 300 more to convert.

Health Promotion:

A role for Dietitians

by Rosa Del Vecchio, dtp

March is Canada's National Nutrition Month. Since 1981, The Canadian Dietetic Association (CDA) and the Quebec Dietitians' Corporation (CPDQ) have organized this annual health promotion campaign. We are pleased to offer you this introductory article pertaining to nutrition. This is the first of a series of articles.

First, let me introduce ourselves. My name is Rosa Del Vecchio, dtp, dietitian in charge of the Dietetics and Food Service at the Pontiac Community Hospital. My colleague is Rosemary Mulrooney, dtp., dietitian responsible for Clinical Nutrition Services at the Pontiac Community Hospital.

In October 1986, Health and Welfare Canada published a document entitled "Achieving Health for All: A Framework for Health Promotion." The CDA responded to this document with a reaction paper outlining the extent of the dietitians' implication in Health promotion. It is with this objective in mind that this article was written. Furthermore, it is essential that the people of the Pontiac Region, like many other regions in Canada, have access to the information that is likely to improve their health status.

The World Health Organization (WHO) has defined health as a state of complete physical, mental and social well-being. Nutrition is an integral part of health.

The saying "You are what you eat" is in many ways truthful in its statement. Proper nutrition helps us achieve optimal health by giving our bodies all the elements it needs to function well.

In our series of articles, we will discover exactly what it is we should do in order to achieve proper nutrition. We will treat subjects such as fiber, BMI and diet and diseases.

We will oscillate between nutrition, therapeutic nutrition, the nutritional sciences and even basic food preparation.

An adventurous journey awaits us all and to quote the CDA slogan "Eat Well, Live Well!"

Rabies spreading across the Pontiac

by Richard Wills

Dr Benoit Paquette, veterinarian with Agriculture Canada, says that rabies has spread from the Clarendon area down as far as Quyon, and upriver as far as Sheenboro.

At the same time, he says the disease has spread into the Gatineau Valley, turning up in such communities as Duclos and Low.

Dr Paquette said that a successfully immunized and healthy animal cannot act as a carrier of the disease if it is not sick itself. He strongly cautioned, however, that the immunization is not 100 percent successful, and therefore an animal should not be considered clean merely because it shows no symptoms.

An animal that has become infected may spread the disease while still appearing to be healthy. This is especially true during the final four or five days of the disease's incubation period.

Unfortunately, the total incubation period may last anywhere from 15 days to six months.

Within ten days of starting to show the classic signs of aggressive behaviour, drooling, and staggering, the animal will be dead.

Immunization against rabies lasts for three years in a dog, but only one year in a cat.

Shawville Mosquitos take four A's

Before Christmas, the Shawville Mosquito Hockey team won A Division Championship at a tournament in Petawawa against teams from Petawawa, Fort Coulonge and Deep River.

December 30th in Shawville, they won A Division Championship after defeating Fort Coulonge, Petawawa, and Shawville.

February 10th they won A Division Championship again against Pembroke, Manawaki, and Shawville in the Fort Coulonge tournament.

Since the photo was taken they entered a nine-team tournament on March 17th in Cardinal, Ontario. They made the two-hour drive worthwhile by winning yet another A division championship, defeating two teams from South Grenville and one from Kanata.

Head coach Garry Thompson credits the boys' success to good passing, playing position hockey and the consistent efforts of each player. Each has earned one or more points during a tournament.

Although ranked as C level, the team is entered in a 16-team A level tournament in Leitrim on the first week of April.

Midgets lose in North Bay

by David Moore

The Pontiac Midget Hockey Team returned home from North Bay this weekend having almost won their series. The Midgets headed out to the 72-team Golden Puck Tounrament to defend last year's win, but came up short in the B final against Vankleek Hill.

The Shawville team went down in defeat twice on Saturday, March 17th, at hands of Capreol and South Porcupine, and scraped out a tie against Haileybury.

In their first game in their 12-team division, the Pontiacs saw Chris MacIntyre, one of their scorers, tossed out of the trounament, but not before he flipped in Shawvilles first point. Garth Yach bagged the assist in the effort.

Yach picked up the next, with Bucky Burgess drawing the assist.

The Pontiacs couldn't net any more in the match and lost 5-2 to slip into the "B" side.

In game two, Marty Brownlee set up Yach for a point and had two goals himself. Troy Dods, Burgess, Yach, and Rob Therrien all chipped in with assists in the effort but to no avail. South Porcupine rattled the Pontiac net five times, defeating them 5-3.

The Midgets salvaged a 3-3 tie in their third game Saturday against Haileybury. Therrien, Burgess, and Dods banged in the Pontiac markers. Allan Kuehl picked up two assists, with Rickey Atkinson, Steve Sharpe, and Jamie Monette grabbing an assist each.

Things looked better the following day in game four. Shawville hammered Elliot Lake, 5-0.

Marty Brownlee started it off with Therrien and Yach handling the set up. Yach, Monette, Bucky Burgess, and Troy Young each robbed the goalie once in the five-point rout. Troy Dods picked up three assists as Brownlee and Yach got one each. Troy St Louis got the shutout and the Pontiacs racked up enough points to head to the B constellation.

The team "didn't have the legs for the final game," said Manager Elwyn Brownlee. With MacIntrye gone and some injuries the Pontiacs didn't have their full slate of players.

Shawville couldn't get by the boys from Vankleek Hill and faced a hot netminder in a "real good game" and were subdued one to nothing. Troy St.Louis took to the nets for the last of the three Shawville games with Tim Ferrigan handling the opening two matches.

The second round of the playoffs could start this Saturday, March 24th at the Shawville Arena. The Pontiacs are awaiting the outcome of the Pembroke-Petawawa series and sould know the results tonight.

Game time is 5:15 p.m.

Atoms bring home trophy

by David Moore

The Shawville Atoms took part in the Ronald McDonald House Atom B Tournament in Kanata last weekend.

Although the Shawville team claimed no victories on the ice, they came away big, with the Most Sportsmanlike Team trophy Sunday March 18. Mrs. Jack Charron presented the award in a center ice cermony.

The Award was gratifying to Coach André Newberry and the entire club. "The players showed a lot of class in the Tournament and all throughout the year," beamed Newberry. "It means alot to us.

"We lost all year. We've only won a few in tournaments, not because were no good, but because we play in a strong league. To prove it, Eganville and Petawawa played in the final. Two teams in our league!".

The Eagles won the match to claim top spot.

In the matches, Shawville were blanked two-zip in the first game on Saturday March 17th. South Porcupine snapped in a goal apiece in the opening and middle frames to drop the Pontiacs.

In game two the following day the club was hammered for five goals by the U.S. entry, Pittsfield B Atoms. Shawville only answered back once late in the third. Terry Hamilton netted the point with Robert Smith and Stephane Newberry getting the assist.

In the final match, the Atoms roared back in the last period but it was too little too late. Down five goals, the Atoms gave it their best shot.

Kevin Barr started things off. He took a feed from Smith for Shawville's first. Stephane Newberry got the last two goals with only minutes remaining, with Edward Rusenstrom, James Sally and Kevin Barr clicking for the assists.

The Pontiac club's Stephane Newberry and Robert Smith were chosen for the All-Star team and helped out in the win. Smith netted a goal and Newberry grabbed an assist, taking the game 3-1.

Ryan Barber, Brad Harris, and Stephane Newberry were awarded the Hustler Awards (MVP) – one for each game.

The Tournament was a huge success according to Newberry, the Oganization presented to the Ronald McDonald House Program the proceeds of the tournament far in excess of their goal. "It's the best tournament I've seen in six years" commented the coach.

Valley sportsman heads task force

At the February meeting of the Conservation, Fish and Wildlife Committee, in Pembroke, a subcommittee of the Ottawa Valley Tourist Association, an Ottawa River Sports Fishery Task Force was formed.

Lorne Spotswood, resort owner and freelance writer, was appointed chairman of the new Task Force. Additional members representing both Quebec and Ontario will also form part of the task force.

The objective of the task force is to initiate and promote the establishment of an Ottawa River Sports Fishery Management Programme on the entire Ottawa River. The task force will strive to coordinate the Ontario Ministry of Natural Resources and the Quebec Ministry of Recreation, Hunting and Fishing into implementing a sports fishery management programme on the Ottawa River, one that will ensure unified and high calibre management practices.

"Gone are the days when catch regulations are sufficient to manage this vast fishery resource," confirms Spotswood. "If the Ottawa River Fishery is to remain competitive with other regions of North America and challenging to resident and visiting anglers, then the fishery must remain productive," adds the new task force chairman. "That aspect of the fishery can only be accomplished with the implementation of a fish management programme designed for today's type of angling and the changing river basin."

Rivers have been hailed by the fishing experts of the day as the "fishing waters of the future". The Ottawa River Fishery is destined to be more attractive in future years, especially since it harbours many of the most sought-after species as well as being the largest river system in eastern Canada.

Coupled with that, the mighty Ottawa is easily accessible to millions of tourists from Montreal-Toronto areas and north-eastern United States.

"The residents of the Ottawa Valley have inherited a priceless legacy in the Ottawa River Fishery Resource," elaborates Spotswood. "The fishery benefits all Ottawa Valley residents as a source of food, employment, income and recreation."

The preliminary steps initiated by the task force will form the cornerstone and inspiration for action involving the public and private sectors. And as a result, a fisheries management programme will emerge and mature, one that will protect healthy aquatic ecosystems and rehabilitate those that are now degraded.

"With a unified and coordinated effort on the part of the Ontario and Quebec ministries entrusted with the Ottawa River, and the concerted efforts of other government ministries and agencies, industries, interested groups and individuals, then a healthy, productive and challenging fishery will greet us as we move towards the turn of the century," concludes Spotswood.

Pat Hahn still gives goalies a hard time

From Pembroke, The Enterprise, Jan. 28, 1990

From the time he first picked up a hockey stick as a kid in his hometown of Otter Lake, Quebec, Pat Hahn has had the magic touch for scoring goals.

It was his pin-point shooting around the net that caught the eye of coach Mac MacLean and helped Hahn win a spot with Pembroke Lumber Kings for the 1971-72 Central Junior hockey season.

That was 18 years ago and Hahn is still giving opposing goaltenders the jitters.

As of mid-week he was on top of the heap in the Petawawa Industrial League scoring race and at the rate he's bagging points he could be there to stay.

In a recent game against the winless Kings he exploded for six goals and seven assists in a 18-2 romp to secure the Pepsis' hold on second place behind leading Wally's Restaurant.

Hahn's 45 points on the season include a league high 25 goals, and an average of better than three points a game. Closest in pursuit of Hahn for the scoring laurels is Steve McAndrews of Wally's, another former Pembroke junior. In 15 games, two more than Hahn, McAndrews had 42 points on 20 goals and 22 assists.

Hahn has always had a hot hand when it comes to scoring goals and this season is no exception with his torrid pace of nearly two a game.

"They (goals) just keep going in for me" says Hahn, who has never really known what a bad season is.

His second year as a junior with Pembroke he played on a line with crafty Steve Croucher at centre and 15-year-old rookie Rod Schutt at left wing and popped 69 goals, at the time a league record.

Croucher that year, 1972-73, won the scoring title and Schutt went on to be a first round draft choice of Montreal Canadiens, later playing in the NHL.

Hahn never had the kind of wheels that scouts were looking for, but it didn't matter because he already had his mind made up to go the college route and accepted a scholarship at R.P.I. in New York State.

He earned a bachelor's degree in management while also playing a prominent role with the college's hockey team.

One season he was the club's top scorer and was runner up another.

His last two years he averaged a goal-a-game and with 180 points to his credit over four seasons is one of RPI's all-time top scorers.

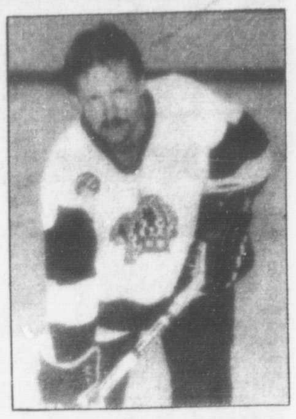
And every year possible since graduating in 1977 he has returned for the college's annual alumni game.

With his education behind him he headed back to Pembroke where it all started and today is the accounts manager of Pembroke Observer.

"I like Pembroke and I like my job, so I guess I'll be here for a while longer.

I really couldn't want much more," he says.

Meanwhile, he just keeps scoring goals.



Pat Hahn, son of Clifford and Elizabeth Hahn, Otter Lake.

Bantams now one game ahead

by David Moore

The Bantam Pontiacs were in Pembroke for the second round of the playoffs Sunday, March 18th. The Pontiacs routed the Kings before the home town crowd to take a one-game lead in the series.

The Kings' Craig Gauthier slipped the lone Pembroke marker unassisted to take the lead late in the first frame. It would be the only time Lee Benoit had to fish the puck out of the Pontiacs net.

Pontiacs rallied inside of a minute to even the score. Luke Murphy set up Ian Lang for the point at the 8:33 mark.

Continuing into the second frame, Tim Carmichael's unassisted goal pulled the Pontiacs ahead for the rest of the game and in the third, Kevin Findlay added a little insurance. Murphy drew the assist.

The Pontiacs hung on to steal the first game three to one. Lee Benoit played outstanding game in between the pipes for the Pontiacs.

The Bantams return home for game two this Saturday March 24th. Game time is at 4:00.

Jr B playoffs

Wolves headed for fourth straight title

by David Moore

It has taken a few weeks, but the Valley Division playoff scene has worked itself out to the two top-ranked teams of the season going for the title. The Richmond-based Royals take on the Renfrew Timberwolves starting tonight, March 21st.

The Renfrew Timberwolves took four straight, after the Wings won the first game to dispose of Perth in the semi-finals. The regular season champs sailed through a high-scoring fourth game 8 to 6 in Perth, and then cranked up the offence and clamped down on Perth for game five, clipping the Wings six to one at the MAC.

This final series could go a full seven, with these two having met only three times thoughout the regular season. Renfrew managed one win with the Royals and the other matches ended in ties. The Wolves may have the edge with their explosive offence, but come up against a team with alot of character, having been on the verge of elmination to come back three straight, back in the first round.

Game one tonight in Renfrew at the MAC, game time is 8:00 pm.

Provincial Ping Pong Tournament to be held at Sieur de Coulonge

Each player will compete in a minimum of three matches. A match is the best of three games of 21 point each.

All participants and other visitors will be lodging at the high school for the weekend and their meals will be served by the cafeteria.

Social events have been planned for the participants with a Casino night on Friday, and a dance on Saturday.

Defying gravity. Jonathan Polaski, April Verch and Nathan Polaski performed a lively set for the patrons at Fairbanks Hotel. Backing them up were Howard Hayes and the Country Drifters, with Quyon's Cal Cummings Jr on bass.

Over in the pub room at Gavan's, the music was more off the cuff. Here Mel Daley pounds the old piano that was rescued from Quyon's oldest building, Granny Bean's Stopping Place, before it was demolished. Joined by his son Randy, Mel comes up from Burlington every year for this weekend.

Tribute to Lennox Gavan the highlight of St Pat's in Quyon

At the St Pat's party on March 18th, Ottawa Valley folklorist Bernie Bedore read a poem dedicated to the fond memory of Lennox Gavan. In between musicians and dancers, he kept the crowd laughing with a ready supply of Irish humour.

From out of a sea of green, Gail Gavan could spot many faces that have beome part of the regular gang at the annual St Patrick's celebrations at Gavan's Hotel. She sang a song she composed herself, about her loving memories of her father, Lennox. Behind her are Dominic Curley (left) and Francis Daley.

The dancing was not confined to the stage at Gavan's. Sometimes it even broke out at the back of the hall. Here EQUITY correspondent Ada Daley breaks into a spontaneous step with family members.

A frame house owned by Wilson's burned to the ground on Thursday morning, March 15. The Ethier family was living there and lost everything with no insurance to cover, the father said.

The St Paddy's Day celebration went over with a bang. A tribute to Lennox Gavan was a momentous event with Gail singing a song called "Daddy" which she composed and sang in public for the first time. Yes, it was a tearjerker. The Quyon Fiddlers paid their honours to Lennox with their fine tunes. Bernie Bedore was the M.C. and he had some fine stories as well as verses, one entitled, "The Spirit of Lennox Gavan".

The Spirit of Lennox Gavan

'Tis a glorious day on Quyon Bay
As we gather once more, on the Ottawa shore
In the "Spirit of Lennox Gavan.

Lads and colleens from shore to shore
Stories and songs of Valley lore
What a wonderful time we're havin'
't would be for us and Gavan we know
"Lord help us" he'd say and put on a good show
In the spirit of Gavan's Tavern.

For one and all, we'll dance and sing
Make Gavan's Hotel in Quyon to ring
In this Valley chosen land of Heaven.

Len wasn't a man to cry in his beer
But laugh and sing and bring good cheer
We can do no less, we're friends of Len Gavan
Feats he's done and hearts he's won
Remember his name, spread his fame
A good fair man – was Gavan.

So raise your glasses to his health
His happy heart and smile were his wealth
Stay happy all, with the Spirit of Lennox Gavan.

Fairbanks Hotel was pretty stirring while the crowd enjoyed the music of Howard Hayes and Buster Brown's steppers, not to leave out John Langford and his fine dancers, to name a few, Christopher Last, Melanie Walls, Virgina James, Hamelin Swartz, Jamie Armitage, and cute little Meagen Patrick of Bristol.

Strange weather! "Gray , gloomy and mild" has diminished the snow piles in the streets and along the roads, then snow flurries. "Crazy as a March hare" is an old adage. Just indeed.

Ever thought about a Career in Corrections?

The Ministry of the Solicitor General brings together the major operational elements of the federal government concerned with the administration of the Criminal Justice System under the direction and supervision of the Solicitor General.

Employing over 10,000 persons (3000 in Quebec), the Correctional Service of Canada, as part of the Criminal Justice System, contributes to the protection of society by actively encouraging and assisting offenders to become law-abiding citizens while exercising reasonable, safe, secure and humane control.

In Quebec alone, there are a little over 3,650 inmates on registry who are under the custody, control and vigilant supervision of correctional officers. These inmates are divided among eleven penitentiaries of different security levels, located in the regions of Laval, Ste-Anne des Plaines, Drummondville, Donnacona and Port Cartier.

Men and women selected through a public competition process can be hired in positions such as correctional officers or case management officers.

1. Correctional Officers must meet medical and educational requirements (completion of secondary school diploma) before being given a staff training course. At the Staff College, a cadidate will acquire knowledge regarding inmate behaviour and will gain an understanding of how the Correctional Service attempts to encourage change in each inmate through the management of his or her individual case and how the officer will contribute to this change by his own involvement and intervention. Also they are taught to know how and when to properly make use of a firearm or other articles of equipment (radios, walkie-talkies, mace, restraints, etc.) and the responsibilities entailed.

When the candidate graduates and dons his/her uniform, he/she knows that he/she is prepared to fulfill an important function in our society: protecting and helping people.

2. Case Management Officers must also meet educational requirements (a bachelor's degree from a recognized university with specialization in criminology, social work, psychology or sociology). Those employees are responsible for assessing offenders for institutional placement, program participation, case planing and suitability for release before completion of their sentences.

A wide range of career possibilities are available within the Correctional Service of Canada. Have you thought of a career in corrections?

You can apply by completing the form PSC 3000, available at any Canada Employment Centre (competition number 90-SCC-OC-IV-QUE-1A). If you would like to talk to someone about this career opportunity, you can call at (514) 662-3404.

Otter Lake ..... Elizabeth Hahn 453-7326

Elizabeth and Clifford Hahn are back home after spending two months holiday travelling in the Southern United States. Their first stop was in Myrtle Beach, South Carolina, where they spent eight days at the Patricia Grand Hotel with an oceanview room and miles of beautiful sandy beaches. About 20 miles from there, they visited Garden City where Hurrican Hugo did so much distruction, hundreds of homes not fit to live in. They are broken in two or moved off their foundations. Sand is piled two feet deep on streets and lawns. The forest is damaged for over a hundred miles.

They went to Pensicola, Florida, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Baton Rouge, Louisanna, by Houston, Texas, where they visited with their Aunt Presley and Mr and Mrs Sledge in Sealy.

Then they went to Rio Grande Valley and McAllen, Texas, where they spent 31 days at Red Carpet Inn. McAllen is a very interesting city to live in because they go all out to entertain the winter Texans with Arts and Crafts, fashion shows, square dancing, flea markets with live bands of Mexican music that everyone can dance to or just watch and much more.

From there, they went to Brownsville, Texas, Matamoris, Mexico, Progresso and Reynosa, Mexico. They travelled along the Mexican border to Rio Grande City. Along this highway all you see for hundreds of miles is Cactus and some were in bloom. Sure was pretty. This is what they call rattlesnake country. All the parking areas have signs reading "Watch out for poisionous snakes". In Rio Grande City, their annual event is rattlesnake roundup, where they catch these reptiles and sell the skins to make belts, purses, boots, etc and the meat is eaten.

They went on to Laredo, Texas, and Nevo Laredo, Mexico. In Mexico, it is a different kind of lifestyle. Mexican people walk the streets selling baskets, jewelery, belts, stands of garlic, wallets and lace tablecloths, etc. They are very poor so they beg from the tourists for money. Children as young as four years old have their little hands out begging for a nickel which is all they can say in English.

They went on to Shreveport, LA, Little Rock, Arkensa. In Memphis, Tennessee, they visited the National Hardwood Lumber Association School where Clifford attended 38 years ago and he is very proud to have his picture on the wall with the graduating eight class of 1952. They also visited 3552 Summer Avenue where they used to live but now it is a hardware store, and the Elvis Presley Boulevard and souvenir shops are still the same.

On to Nashville where they toured Conway Tweety City, and Johnny Cash's home. They travelled by Virgnia, West Virginia, Maryland M.D., Pennsylvania, and in Syracuse, N.Y. they were met by their son Pat and his two daughters, Kelly and Natalie, where they spent a few more days enjoying swimming around the pool at Holiday Inn.

In Ottawa, they visited the rest of the family namely, Pam and Randy Thoms, Patricia and Carson Russell and Jeff.

In those two months the temperatures were in the warm 70's and 90's. Only three days of warm rain. They made over 7000 miles and enjoyed every minute of it.

On Wednesday night, March 14 the senior citizens at the Golden Age Club at Bristol were all Irish for a day and held an Irish program including decorations and everyone wore green. We played ten games of euchre and can you believe it, Mae Trudeau made us green skunks. No one felt bad because they received a skunk prize as they were so inventive that you couldn't imagine anyone being so talented.

Small trophies were given for first prize to both men and women and other prizes for second. Tickets were given to each person as they paid for their card to play and throughout the evening drawings were made for the green parcels.

Eileen Millar read a very appropriate poem, The Irish in us. After the lovely lunch prepared by Rita Barber, Dominic and Louella Curley were so kind to come and play some good old Irish tunes for us and Dominic kept everyone in stitches with Irish jokes. This was all planned by myself, Mary Beaulieu, Mae Trudeau, Muriel Conroy and Rita Barber. It was a surprise for the rest of our members and everyone enjoyed the evening. Even if you aren't really Irish yourself, it is nice to be Irish for a day.

Mary Beaulieu and Muriel Conroy presented us with a lovely new drip perc.

On Saturday, March 17th the Bristol Association arranged for a bus for 40 to go to the Ice Capades in Ottawa. The children really enjoyed the Scarecrows, the silent moview comedy sorcery by Kirk Wyse and his famous dog Scrapette, and from the world of Nintendo, the adventures of the Super Mario Brothers. It was so nice to see Elizabeth Manley in person. She was the winner of the Ladies Silver Medal at both the 1988 Calgary Winter Olympics and the 1988 World Championships.

Visiting with us on Sunday were Susan Wilson, Craig and Shawn, Neil Sharpe and Corey of Shawville.

Sympathy goes out to the family and friends of Mary Jane (Horner) Eades who passed away on March 12 in Shawville hospital in her 87th year.

Sympathy goes out to the family and friends of Stephen Lorenzo Hodgins who passed away on March 11 in Shawville hospital in his 69th year.

Spring no doubt isn't very far away, even if we did get a few flurries on Sunday. Mary Beaulieu of Wyman told me she had two robins in her yard and we have been noticing them here as well and some are reporting flocks of wild geese on their way north.

Happy birthday to Gilbert Braden of Quyon who celebrates this Thursday, March 22.The seniors of Bristol and all of your friends and relations wish you many more years of health and happiness.

We are all so glad that Ivan Orr is home from Ottawa hospital and sure hope his health keeps improving.

Visiting with Tommie and Mary Smith at Wyman and Doug and Ramona Young in Shawville, were Curtis and Donna Young of Toronto.

Stark's Corners started their euchre games on Friday night and in spite of the heavy fog had a good crowd.

David Lucas was home with his parents, Lyons and Hennie this weekend from Ottawa where he is attending college.

I really enjoyed seeing Shawville on the TV News on Channel 13. Lee Hodgins sure hasn't lost his way of telling things as they are. I can remember Lee in his younger days giving political speeches and I'm sure he can still put his points across. Congratulations Lee, keep up the good work. We sure enjoyed it. His daughter Lucille, we know has followed in her father's footsteps.

Considérant que la commission scolaire doit établir l'acte d'établissement, soit: le nom, l'adresse, les locaux ou les immeubles mis à la disposition de l'école et l'ordre d'enseignement qu'elle dispense; Roland Vallières propose que la commission scolaire accepte le projet pour émettre les actes d'établissement conformément au document déposé.

Approbation des politiques, des règlements et de la delegation de pouvoirs considérant que la commission a procédé à la révision complète de son recueil de gestion; considérant que tous les organismes ont été consultés conformément aux obligations prévenues à cette fin., Roland Vallières propose que le consiel des commissaires approuve les politiques, les règlements et la délagation de pouvoirs avec les deux modifications suivantes: R-101-02 Retrancher le deuxième paragraphe R-313-02 B Modifier "20.00" à "de 20:00 à 22:00" Ajouter: Pour le prolongement d'une réunion au delà de 22:00, le consentement unanime des membres présents est requis. Pour la résolution 1. Contre la résolution 8. Rejetée.

Approbation des politiques, des règlements et de la delegation de pouvoirs considérant que la commission a procédé à la révision de son recueil de gestion; considérant que tous les organismes ont été consultés conformément aux obligations prévues à cette fin, il est proposé par le commissaire Bill Lépine que le conseil des commissaires approuve les politiques, les règlement et la délégation de pouvoirs tels que rédigés: Les politiques nos. 102, 103, 105, 106, 107, 108, 203, 205, 207, 208, 209, 301, 311. Les réglements nos. 101, 102, 103, 104, 107, 109, 201, 202, 204, 206, 207, 208, 209, 301, 302, 302, 303, 304, 305, 306, 307, 308, 310, 311, 312, 313, 314. Délégation de pouvoirs nos. 401, 402, 403, 404, 405. Pour la résolution: 8. Contre la résolution: 1 dont Roland Valliéres.

Ecole Ste-Anne No. 2 Ile du Grand Calumet considérant l'état de détérioration avancé de l'école ci-haut mentionnée; considérant que cet état présente des dangers face à la sécurité de la clientèle; considérant la demande de la corporation municipale du canton Grand Calumet; considérant l'offre de services de D'Arcy Audet, architecte, Lucienne Roy propose que la commission scolaire retienne les services de la firme "D'Arcy Audet, architecte", afin d'élaborer des plans et devis qui consisteraient à éliminer une des deux écoles existantes et de s'assurer que les services requis concernant l'architecture, le chauffage, l'électricité, l'aqueduc, les égouts, etc. soient adéquatement prévus dans l'école qui continuera d'être utilisée.

Rescinder la resolution #90-01-245. Raymond Hynes propose que la résolution ci-haut mentionnée soit rescindée.

Projet de reamenagement de la salle de reunion au centre administratif considérant le niveau élevé d'utilisation de cette salle; considérant l'espace restreint de la présente salle de réunion; considérant l'importance de rendre cette salle fonctionnelle, Roland Vallieres propose que la commission scolaire demande au MEQ (DRO) l'autorisation d'utiliser le produit (en partie) des ventes des immeubles et terrains afin de réaliser ce projet.

Reparation du gymnase a l'école secondaire sieur de Coulonge et des locaux de services Roland Vallières propose que la commission scolaire procède selon le plan déposé pour réparer le gymnase de l'école et des locaux ci-haut mentionnés.

Huile a chauffage - Hausse des prix considérant l'augmentation de la consommation d'huile à chauffage au sein de notre commission scolarie engendrée par la politique de rachat des contrats de biénergie par Hydro-Québec; considérant que l'industrie pétrolière nous annonce de fortes hausses du prix par litre d'huile à chauffage et que déjà, certaines hausses sont constatées; considérant que ces hausses de prix, aussi subites qu'imprévisibles, ne semblent pas justifiées par des variations du prix du pétrole sur les marchés financiers; Raymond Hynes propose que la Commission scolaire de Pontiac demande l'intervention de la Ministre de l'Energie et des Ressources, Madame Lise Bacon, pour qu'elle assure, par les moyens qu'elle jugera appropriés, l'ensemble des consommateurs québecois contre d'éventuelles hausses abusives des prix de l'huille à chauffage, que copie de cette résolution soit transmise au Ministre de l'Education, Monsieur Claude Ryan, étant donné l'impact sur les budgets des commissions scolaires.

Bibliothèques. Attendu les nombreuses interventions concernant le retard du Québec en matière de bibliothèques publiques; attendu les recommandations de l'étude sur les bibliothèques scolaires québécois, "Plus que jamais", publiées en juin 1989; attendu le plan d'action "Le français à l'école: lancé par le ministère de l'Education en 1988; attendu le lien étroit établi par les chercheurs entre la lecture etla qualité du français écrit; attendu que plusieurs programmes d'études (le français, l'histoire, la géographie, l'écologie, l'éduction économique, etc.) sous-entendent l'accès quotidien des élèves à des documents pertinents, de qualité et de attendu l'effet inflationniste de la loi 51 sur les coûts des livres achetés par les commissions scolaires du Québec; Roland Vallières propose que la commission scolaire de Pontiac demande au gouvernment du Québec, et en particulier au Conseil du trésor, de dégager immédiatement des sommes sugstanielles pour la relance et le maintien des bibliothèques scolaires de la province; que ces sommes d'argent soient ajoutées au budget actuel du ministère de l'Education; que la loi 51, loi sur le développement des entreprises québécoises dans le domain du livre, soit amendée pour réduire le coût des livres pour les commissions scolaires du Québec; que le ministère de l'Education fournisse davantage d'aide dans la préparation de bibliographies spécialisées de documents pertinents aux programmes d'études; que le ministère de l'éducation reconnaisse le statut d'enseignant-bibliothécaire; que la coopération entre les bibliothèques scolaires et publiques soit encouragée, que copie de cette résolution soit envoyée; a la Fédération des commissions scolaires catholiques du Québec.

Mandats du président, vice-président, membres de l'exécutif considérant que le ministre de l'éducation, dans le projet de loi 9, s'apprête à certains amendements aux lois 107 et 106; considérant qu'à l'avenir, les élections générales génèreront probablement un renouvellement des membres du Conseil scolaire plus important que ce que l'on a connu jusqu'à maintenant; considérant que les nouveaux élus se retrouveront souvent entre inconnus, étant donne l'étendu du territoire de presque toutes les commissions scolaires en province; considérant que ces élus n'auront pas eu l'occasion de se connaître dans un parti comme il est habituel pour les députés au provincial ou pour les élus municipaux; considérant que, selon les articles 154 et 155 de la loi 107, le Conseil des commissaires, dans les 15 jours qui suivent la date de l'élection générale, nomme parmi ses membres un(e) président (e) et cela pour une période de quatre ans: considérant que ces articles s'appliquent aussi au Comité exécutif (art. 182); considérant que la procédure de destitution prévue dans la loi est un processus pénible pour les personnes et difficilement applicable si l'on désire favoriser un travail d'équipe concerté et efficace, nécessaire au milieu scolaire; considérant qu'une élection stutaire annuelle est plus efficace pour réaliser un changement jugé nécessaire ou utile; Roland Vallières propose de demander au ministre de l'éducation
