Rotary Has Progressive Plan of Events Lined Up

Donald McNaughton Wins Place in Rotary Public Speaking Competition

Donald McNaughton, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. M. McNaughton, and presently attending Huntingdon Academy, is to be the public speaking candidate sponsored by the Rotary Club of Huntingdon to speak before the Westward Rotary Club, Montreal West, on April 8, in competition with representatives from Hawkesbury, Sherbrooke, and likely a few other centres. The student scoring the best marks at this semi-final contest will go before the Montreal Rotary Club, on April 25.

The four students addressing the Rotary Club were Donald McNaughton, who spoke on "Public Speaking"; Stewart Battie on "Our Parents, Principally Dad"; James Robb on "What About Us"; and William Peitani on "Deciding on One's Right Work."

The scoring was done according to a set score sheet sent out by Rotary for such judging. All the judges named and one unofficial judge were unanimous in their judgment in favor of Donald McNaughton. The scoring amongst all four boys was very even.

Girl Guides are on the high road to coming into a reality in Huntingdon. They have already set up their organization with Miss Timm assuming the leadership. The Rotary Club voted $25 to be sent the Girl Guides to purchase Mrs. W. K. Pope, which can be used for incidental expenses they will certainly have in getting started.

To Erect Road Signs

S. J. Currie is to have three Rotary road signs made which are to be posted by Highways 52 and 4 near Huntingdon.

Two Rotarians are to explore the possibilities of obtaining band instruments for the benefit of the Boys' Band.

Boys and Girls' Week, set apart by Rotary International, is April 27 to May 4. At the next meeting of the Rotary a suggested program for that week is to be introduced by the Community Service Committee headed by W. K. Pope. It is highly probable something special will be proposed by Rotary for the benefit of the Boy Scouts, Cubs and Girl Guides. It is also likely the ball diamond will be put into action that week. Next week The Gleaner will likely be able to give a more definite report on what is hoped to be achieved during that particular week.

Fawcett & Grant Ltd. To Run 8-hour Shifts

Commencing at an early date Fawcett & Grant Limited intend to run three continuous shifts of eight hours each at their mill in Huntingdon. On account of increased production in the weaving department, it will be necessary to sharply expand the burling and mending facilities. To accomplish this, it has been decided to open a burling and mending department at Howick, Que. A building known as the late Wm. Robertson's Store, Howick Station, has been secured for this purpose and is at present being altered so as to accommodate twelve burling tables. It is expected that within a few weeks, employment will be found for twelve girls in this Howick branch of Fawcett & Grant Ltd.

T. E. P. Pringle Passes in Chicago

It is with deep regret that we publish the announcement of the death of one of Huntingdon's well-known and respected citizens in the person of the late T. E. P. Pringle, of 6230 North Kenmore Avenue, Chicago, U.S.A., who died on Sunday, March 24, at his home.

The late Mr. Pringle was born at Huntingdon, Que., on May 1, 1887. After graduating from Huntingdon Academy he entered the service of the Canadian National Railways as city passenger and ticket agent at

Teachers' Association Hold Meeting at Dundee School

Over Thirty of Chateauguy Valley Teachers Gathered For Discussions

The teaching staff of the Dundee Consolidated School, the Misses Mary Sutherland and Helen Smallman and Mr. Gordon McGibbon, gathered at the Chateauguy Valley Teachers' Association in the school auditorium last Thursday evening. Over thirty teachers were in attendance representing the Howick, Ormstown and Huntingdon Schools, the Athelstan Intermediate School and also Elgin Public Schools.

The president, Miss Elsie Salter, called the gathering to order and as the object of the get-together was to discuss school problems, it was decided to divide into three groups, as follows: Principal J. B. MacMillan, Huntingdon Academy, Latin problems; Mrs. M. C. Walsh, French specialist, Ormstown, French teaching discussion; while the English literature was taken by Miss Doris Fraser of Howick High School, replacing Mr. King, also of Howick, who was unable to attend. Miss Fraser had with her a record player and presented selections from "MacBeth" with short readings between records.

have been suggestions that an additional centre of training with a purely French background be established in the province as a remedy for the situation.

Said Mrs. Walsh, it is important to teach pupils to realize that French is one of the most beautiful languages in the world with a wealth of wonderful literature—a world-wide language of cultured people and not a "patois" spoken by the illiterate who probably left school at grade IV.

What heartaches and disappointments await the hard-working teacher of a modern language! Do you ever say to yourself, why did I enter this field? But be consoled perhaps your results may be more far-reaching than you know. Your reward will be the ex-pupil who comes and tells you of the better position he obtained because of his knowledge of another language.

After the discussion period, delicious refreshments were served to all the guests by the local teachers, assisted by a few others, who kindly assisted for the occasion.

A vote of thanks was extended to the Dundee group for their hospitality by Mr. Farquharson, of Howick. Miss Mary Sutherland, principal, made a suitable reply, and Miss Elsie Salter then proposed the singing of "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows," in which everyone heartily joined, thus bringing a very pleasant evening to a close.

Electrocution Cause Of Howick Man's Death

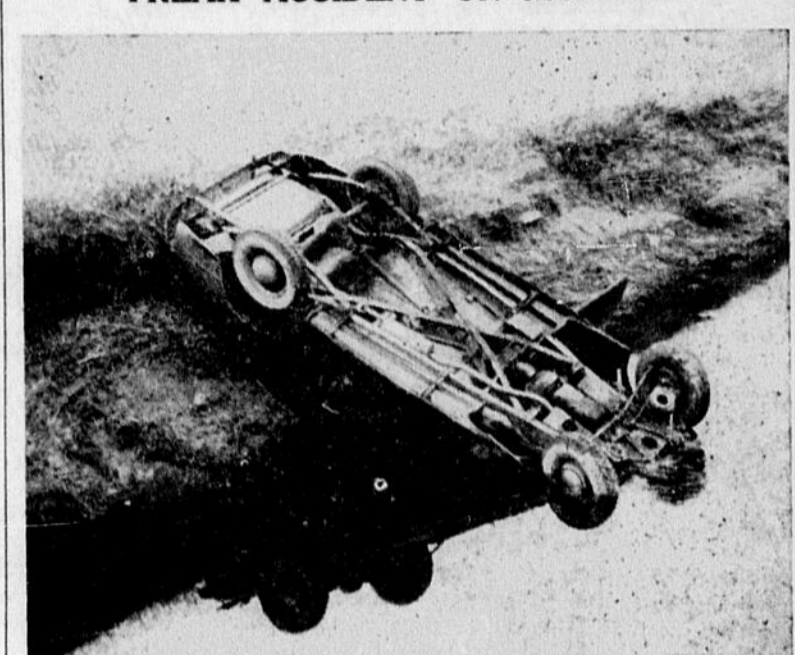

An autopsy held on Wednesday afternoon at the morgue on the body of Charlemagne Sauve, 41, of Howick, Que., disclosed that electrocution was the cause of death. The body of Sauve, who had been missing from home for the past two months, was found on Wednesday with the skull crushed near a power house at Primeau crossing near Caughnawaga.

Dr. Rosario Fontaine, medical expert, said that the head injury probably was caused when Sauve fell from a power tower. Provincial Police, who first believed that he had a murder case on their hands, are continuing the investigation.

The death of Charlemagne Sauve, 41, of Howick, Que., was ruled a suicide while of unsound mind in the Coroner's court. Sauve's body was found two days ago near a power-tower of the Shawinigan Water & Power Co., between Caughnawaga and Chateaugay.

An autopsy revealed that the man was electrocuted after climbing a power tower and that he died before his body hit the ground. Relatives explained that shortly before his disappearance from his home two months ago he had been complaining of severe headaches.

FREAK ACCIDENT ON MONDAY

Shown above is the result of a freak accident which occurred on Monday afternoon, about a quarter of a mile east of Ste. Barbe, on the road to Valleyfield. The car hit a soft spot on the road, breaking some part of the steering mechanism, after which it left the road, clearing a ditch about four feet deep, continuing through a field for about 150 feet, then dropping into a dredged ditch and turning over as shown. The unidentified driver was said to have been unhurt and calmly got out of the car and brushed himself off, the only apparent discomfiture being wet feet.

Ormstown's June 5-8 Show Organized Early

Expect to Beat All Previous Records of Show Commenced in 1910

Never before have the officials of the Ormstown Exhibition commenced as early, laid plans as carefully, or felt so enthusiastic about a forthcoming show as they do this year, and today completed their fifth meeting in advance of the 1946 renewal of the "best in livestock world" show.

Actually plans for the show and the date were decided at the annual meeting of the Live Stock Breeders' Association of the District of Beauharnois, on November 28, in the Ormstown town hall. At that time a directorate of the following officials was elected: Messrs. Gilbert MacMillan, Huntingdon, Que.; Donald E. Black, M.P., Aubrey, Que.; Douglas Ness, Howick, Que.; A. A. McGerick and W. E. Graham, Ormstown, Que., directors.

Budge Memorial, Kiwanis, Ottawa Farm Journal, Alvin Ness Memorial, Ringside Club and the Holstein Club. There will be over $450 in prize money to go with these trophies in the various classes. More particulars of this will be announced later when fuller details are known. In the meantime, the advice of the officials to the juniors is to get their exhibits prepared and brush up on their knowledge of judging.

Then followed a second meeting to "set" the exhibition and Mr. Gilbert MacMillan was named exhibition president, Donald Black, M.P., 1st vice-president, Doug Ness, 2nd vice-president, and W. G. McGerick, secretary-treasurer.

The Quebec Branch of the Holstein-Friesian Association of Canada recently held its annual meeting in Montreal under the presidency of W. A. Hodge, Ville St-Laurent.

This society has 1,251 members who registered 6,365 head of cattle in 1945. The National Association of Holstein Breeders, which is concrete proof of its importance.

Secretary-treasurer, H. Lajoie emphasized the importance of local breeding clubs in his annual report. There are 15 of these clubs in existence and, upon opportune occasions, they organize field days, exhibitions, auctions, "Black and White" field days, etc. Their full support is always given to the Quebec, Lacute, Ormstown and Sherbrooke Fairs.

During the convention important papers were presented: the problem of Bang's disease, by Dr. J. Labelle; the market situation, by Henri C. Bois; the future of the General Breeders' Society, by R. P. Sabourin; milk tests, by Messrs. G. M. Clemens and C. L. Goodhue. Addresses suitable to the occasion were given by the mayor of Montreal, Camilleien Houde; the Hon. Antonio Elie, Minister of Agriculture, by the Rev. Father de Holland; G. DeLeFerriere, vice-consul for Argentina; Rev. Father Donat Godin and W. A. Hodge.

Next meeting back in Ormstown was a recently held to iron out the general program for what is planned to be the "biggest show in history—won't settle for less," according to Douglas Ness, who feels particularly enthusiastic about this year's prospects.

This week another meeting will be held and by that time, according to President MacMillan, "the meetings will be over and we will be going ahead under a full head of steam to put on the finest show we know how."

During the banquet, successful breeding certificates were awarded to Rev. Father J. A. Lemay, Seminarian of Ste-Theresa; to the Rev. Brother Elol, agronomist of the Agricultural School of St-Cesaire, and to Messrs. H. L. Gullbert, Vercheres; William Bousquet, La Presentation, and T. Cleland, La Tuque.

The following officers were elected for 1946: Messrs. Emile Minard, Notre Dame de Lourdes, president; J. A. Brown, Huntingdon, vice-president; directors: Messrs. W. A. Hodge, St. Laurent; Hon. Antonio Elie, La Bale; C. L. Goodhue, Vaudeville; Rev. Father Donat Godin, Montreal; Jules Montour, Threms; Donat Giard, Ste. Rosalie; Mr. Hermas Lajoie was re-elected as secretary, and Mr. Jean Real Proulx, agronomist, was appointed propagandist.

What is amazing the exhibition committee is that they are already receiving enquiries concerning entries for the show, which is at a record early date as far as the 36 year history of the show would reveal.

Junior farmers are urged to prepare now for the junior judging work as there will be an increased number of classes in the junior competitions and together with this will be an increase in the prize money and the prizes. Among the trophies to be competed for are the following:

RE-ENLISTS IN R.C.A.F.

Norman W. Dawson, son of Norman W. Dawson, of Sutton, Que., formerly of Huntingdon. Norman was discharged in April 1945, and was placed on the reserve list of the R.C.A.F. He reported for duty March 25, and will be stationed at Trenton, Ont.

Issue New Pamphlet On Roses of Canada

The rose is probably the oldest flower in cultivation, says R. W. Oliver, Division of Horticulture, Dominion Department of Agriculture, in his introduction to publication 777 on "Outdoor Roses in Canada," just published by the Department. No one can tell when the rose was first introduced into gardens, but in the Bible, in Greek mythology, and in the writings of the early Romans, frequent mention is made of its cultivation. There is neither description nor pedigree of these old roses, but about 45 B.C. Herodotus wrote of a rose with 60 petals, so that even today considerably from the five-petaled species native to Asia, Europe, and America. Everything about outdoor roses in Canada and how to grow them will be found in the publication, a copy of which may be obtained by writing to Dominion Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

215 Names For School Honour Roll

Forty to Fifty More Names Have Been Added to List

In connection with the proposed Honor Roll and Memorial Tablet for Huntingdon Academy, 215 names have been received and checked to date. This list includes from 40 to 50 more names than were first listed. As no names can be added to the bronze tablet after it has been made up, the school authorities are anxious that all errors and omissions be carefully checked and that if errors are found, those knowing of them will notify the school immediately. As soon as complete particulars are known as to the cost and how the tablet will be made up, these names will be required and they will then have to be complete. Before this happens a further list of the names will be published in these columns in order that the public may have another opportunity of checking over the list. The authorities do not wish to omit any name or to have errors in spelling or initials, but this list is being compiled with all possible care. They therefore seek cooperation of all interested persons in avoiding such errors or omissions.

A further contribution has been received during the past week from Mr. and Mrs. John A. Hunter, Huntingdon, for $2.00. Until the real campaign for the funds gets underway, all such contributions will be gratefully received by Mr. J. B. MacMillan, Principal. With such a large list of names there should be much interest in this scheme and the civic pride for the school should ensure the success of the plan when the campaign is finally launched with a definite objective.

Over 15,000 Homes Benefit By Health Officer's Advice

Through its County Units, the Provincial Ministry of Health and Social Welfare makes it its duty to teach people the rules which should be followed to keep well at all ages, taking into consideration the differences in constitutions, the different conditions of life and different professions. Every month a complete notebook containing a number of families to point out ways and means of protecting their health. In January these nurses visited 13,191 homes.

How many parents fear for the health of their children, but let them be exposed to avoidable contagious diseases? Vaccination and immunization are sure and inexpensive means of preventing diseases such as smallpox and diphtheria. The Health Units are at the disposal of the public for this purpose. A complete notebook of January, the health officers of the Province completed 2,232 anti-diphtheric immunizations. Consequently, so many children need not fear this dread disease. The human body is like a dynamo. It is a complex network of nerves, muscles, blood vessels and organs. Great care must be taken of it. The secret of good health consists in getting the most out of this delicate mechanism without over-taxing it. Child welfare clinics and lectures on hygiene given by the technicians of the Ministry of Health inform people of what must be done to keep themselves and their children in good health. For instance, nearly 1,200 demonstrations in private homes during the month of January afforded our health officers the opportunity of giving mothers of families good advice. Over 1,400 prenatal visits contributed to the spread of infant hygiene. 7,890 infants aged 5,213 children of preschool age were examined at 391 child welfare clinics. Nearly 12,000 of the latter children and 8,620 infants were visited in their homes. These children all derive benefit from the lessons given on hygiene and preventive medicine, and the work done in January is repeated every month.

Curlers Hold Annual Oyster Supper

Presentations Made to Aubrey Club Members

The Aubrey Curlers held their annual oyster supper in the rink club rooms on Monday evening, March 18. About 80 members and friends were present to enjoy the delicious meal.

A special feature this year was the presence of Mr. Stewart and several other curling officials, of Montreal, who at the close of the supper period, presented the winners of the Edinburgh Trophy Bonspiel with the silver trophy. Silver plates and gold medals were also presented to the winning team, who were Messrs. Floyd Gruer, Ralph Reddick, Keith Robb and Eric Orr. The runners-up were Messrs. Ray Reddick, Morris Robb, Angus Black and Edgar McKell, also received medals.

Several interesting speeches were given by the Montreal visitors and others, and Mr. John Roy, of Montreal, gave an interesting sketch on curling. A recitation was also given by Mr. J. J. Craig. Prizes given by Mrs. Andrew Allen to the Ladies Club were presented to the winners, Mrs. Geo. Robb, Miss Edna Reddick, Mrs. Everett Orr and Mrs. Chas. Wylie. These prizes were lovely silver cake dishes.

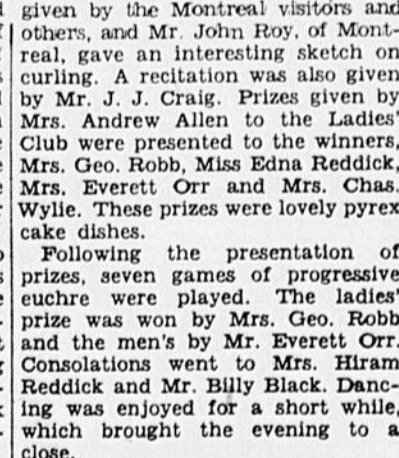

Following the presentation of prizes, seven games of progressive euchre were played. The ladies' prize was won by Mrs. Geo. Robb and the men's by Mr. Everett Orr. Congratulations went to Mrs. Hiram Reddick and Mr. Billy Black. Dancing was enjoyed for a short while, which brought the evening to a close.

Synthetic Sound Revolutionizes Film Music?

Newest developments in the field of film sound show possibilities of creating an entirely new world of musical expression. Experiments with synthetic sound, conducted recently by the National Film Board, have led musicians at the Board to believe that in the future film music will be even more powerful and distinct than ever before.

Ordinarily, music composed to accompany a film when played, is recorded as light waves on the sound track negative. This negative is developed and printed just as snapshots are. The resulting print can be subjected to a process which converts the sound track into the music as originally recorded.

MAKING THE PRESENTATION

T. HOWARD STEWART, of Montreal, is shown presenting the Pat Lid Trophy to J. BOUCHARD, of Valleyfield, at a special banquet which was held at the Moco Club, Valleyfield, on Monday evening.

This trophy remains with the Valleyfield Curling Club together with the china cups which were presented to the players on the three rink that took part in the Granite Competition. T. Howard Stewart is the donor of the Pat Lid Trophy and the china cups.

Valleyfield Looks Forward To Boom

Unemployment in Town Traced to Shutdown of War Plants

With a large industrial boom slated to begin early this spring, the high seasonal number of unemployed persons in the Valleyfield-Beauharnois-Huntingdon district is expected to be reduced by at least 75 per cent, within the next two months, it was learned at the National Employment Service headquarters, Valleyfield, the past week.

Issuing a report on the unemployment situation in this district, Lesandre Ladouceur, manager of the local N.E.S. office, revealed that of the 1,100 persons who had registered for employment, 950 had filed claims for Unemployment Insurance benefits.

While there were several reasons for the relatively high percentage of unemployed in this district of 30,000 population, the prime factor, it was learned, could be traced to the gradual layoff of approximately 1,500 employees of the Defence Industries Limited plant at nearby Nitro, which ceased operations early last fall, at a time when local construction work was coming to a virtual standstill.

Fluorescent Street Lighting A Possibility

But Filament Lamps Still the Best

City streets illuminated by brilliant columns of light and glowing fluorescent bars may be a possibility, but according to engineers of the General Electric Illuminating Laboratory, it will be some time before modern cities assume the pseudoscience writer's dream. The present filament lamps are still the most efficient street lighting source in terms of cost and good lighting.

The possibility of fluorescent street lighting is not being overlooked, however, by General Electric engineers, who are constantly working to overcome the difficulties presented by fluorescent lighting, a method which may have the advantage of greater and more attractive appearance.

Fluorescent lamps offer possibilities for many beautiful as well as spectacular effects such as luminous pylons like those employed on world's fair roadways. Moreover, with fluorescent lamps it is possible to produce striking color effects without any loss in lighting efficiency such as occurs when colored "gelatins" are placed around ordinary filament lamps.

In spite of the decorative possibilities offered by fluorescent street lighting, the present filament engineers at present are items of cost per dollar of operation in respect to the amount of visibility obtained and factors of public safety.

Though the installation of fluorescent lighting in cities, standards now in use and with existing circuits offers no serious difficulties, the drawbacks of such a system outweigh its advantages. First of all, a fluorescent lamp, unlike the filament type, is highly sensitive to weather conditions. Cold temperatures necessitate jacketing of the lamp to prevent loss of light output.

At present, the disadvantages of a fluorescent street lighting system lie in the realms of maintenance and operation. In many cases light efficiency, glare and visibility have no marked difference over the lamps now in use.

The prime consideration in any new type of lighting is the benefit to be received by the public in terms of visibility obtained per dollar of total lighting cost, regardless of the spectacular appearance which a new unit might present. In this respect fluorescent light, as it has been developed thus far, cannot compete with the filament lamps in use today.

St. Patrick's Concert Held At Ormstown

Pupils of St. Malachias' Present Fine Program

The annual St. Patrick's concert sponsored by St. Malachias' School, Ormstown, was held on March 19 under the patronage of Rev. T. H. Delage, Pastor, and presented by the pupils of the school. There was a good attendance and all enjoyed the program presented, which was as follows:

$2,000 Fire At Piggery Wednesday

Eleven Pigs Lost By Exposure—None Lost by Fire

The fire alarm sounded at about 7:30 on Wednesday evening and called the Huntingdon Volunteer Fire Brigade out to one of the worst fires that has occurred here for some time. The fire was at the piggery belonging to Mr. A. C. H. Picard, on the outskirts of town, and apparently started in the straw insulation in the loft. By the time the firemen reached the scene the fire was making quite some headway and it was felt that it could not be saved.

There is a boiler shack near by, where the feed for the pigs is prepared, and it was near this point that the fire started in the loft. There was about 18 or 20 inches of straw over the floor which is used for insulation and it is considered that this saved the building from being a total loss as it dampened the fire. It was the northwest end of the building that was the most badly damaged and the rafters burned through and allowed the roof to fall in. There were several hundred pigs in the building, but all were got to safety from the fire, although eleven were lost through exposure. The south section of the building was not very badly damaged and it was saved.

Use Booster Pump

The firemen used the booster pump at the creek nearby and 1,800 feet of hose was used to fight the fire which raged for at least five hours before the firefighters considered it safe to leave. Fourteen men of the fire brigade were out fighting the fire and they were on the job from the time of the alarm until 3 o'clock on Thursday morning.

The damage done amounted to over $2,000 and was covered by insurance. There is no doubt that the efforts of the firemen prevented a much greater loss.

Is Farm Machinery Ready For Business?

Farmers who have ordered repair parts for their farm machinery are advised by J. M. Armstrong, Agricultural Engineer, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, to get in touch with their dealers at once. Because of the tie-up in steel manufacture, deliveries of repair parts may be delayed. If the dealer intimates that deliveries are likely to be slow or late this season, other plans may be made to get the farm machinery in good running order. Temporary repairs may be resorted to while awaiting the arrival of the replacement parts. Broken parts may often be put in shape by acetylene welding. A broken gear tooth can be built up by that process.

HOW SPUD WAS NAMED

"Spud" in common parlance nowadays means a potato, but there was a time two centuries ago when S-P-U-D stood for the Society for the Prevention of Unwholesome Diet. The Society was formed in protest against the introduction of potatoes into Great Britain. Potatoes were looked upon as something unwholesome and a source of danger to a bit of concern. Should Controls Be Relaxed?

ALTHOUGH many articles are in short supply and it has been said that manufacturers are waiting until ceilings on the various merchandise have been lifted before the supply will improve, there are still a large number of people who feel that controls should stay for a time.

If the subsidies are discontinued on dairy products it would mean that the farmers would not get as much for their product and the next step would be to raise the price to at least what it was with the subsidies being paid.

It all adds up to the fact that such increases will lead to inflation and everyone will demand more money for everything, wages will have to be increased, prices of goods will advance as the wages advance and there you have it.

It is believed that this can be prevented if the controls are allowed to stay until the supply situation has improved to a point where people can buy what they need in reasonable quantities.

Reminiscent of Barber Shop Quartet. ALL down through the ages the barber has been what one might say an important person in every community. The barber shop was always the gathering place for the male population, either seeking the services of the barber or just putting in the time listening to the general conversation.

Do We Value Our Freedom?

THE resident of any locality or country is always the last one to appreciate the beauty and virtues of the place in which he lives. The man or woman who never goes beyond the borderlines of his or her own domain is never able to appreciate the differences between one place and another.

ent Spy Case we find that the principal witness Igor Gouzenko, is much taken by the freedom that the people enjoy in Canada as compared with that in his own country, Russia.

"He emphasized that he had been in Canada a couple of years, had been immensely surprised when he came here to see the freedom of the people, the way in which democratic institutions worked in this country. He had been very greatly impressed with the way in which the general elections were conducted, the different political parties speaking freely in the open, having their candidates, and the like.

"It impressed him very deeply in contrast with what he had seen in his own country, and he said he felt that, having witnessed for two years this country doing what it could to assist its ally with munitions, money and food, and in every other way, and at the same time affording to himself and to others every facility that could be extended in the way of freedom, he could not stand it much longer and had made up his mind that, regardless of what the consequences might be, even if it were life itself, he owed it to the people of this country and to his own people to reveal the condition of affairs as he had come to know it at first hand.

"Here we have a man who is not a native of Canada, but who is deeply impressed by the freedom afforded in this country and that afforded his people. So deeply is he impressed that he feels called upon to warn the people of this country of the dangers being waged against it by some people of his own country. He also feels that he is justified in making the exposure because it will help protect the people of his own country. He believes that Canada has treated his country squarely and sent badly needed supplies and that this trying to steal information is a poor way of repaying a friend. Thus he is making this attempt to prove his appreciation of the freedom accorded him in a foreign land, that is not given him in his own country.

To the people of Canada this must appear as a peculiar kind of philosophy and also appear to show disloyalty to one's own country. But then, we in Canada, have never known what loss of freedom means. We have always had the right to say our parts and speak our mind. This man marvels at what the candidates for election say about the government and about each other and that nothing happens to them in the way of retribution. In his own country such things are not possible, there are secret police everywhere and one does not know whether another person is a friend or a secret policeman. Thus it is that he sought protection of the authorities because of fear for the safety of himself and his family. Even then his apartment was entered and ransacked on two occasions while he has been under protective custody, by persons other than police officials.

When such cases are brought to our attention, it is doubtful if any one of us really value the freedom we have in this country. If we do value it, it is doubtful if we cherish it as much as we should and defend it as fully as we might. We should never lose our grip on the freedom we enjoy in all things, it is one of those possessions that large numbers of people in this world would be proud to call their own. This man has had the courage to come out and proudly proclaim that he deeply appreciates the freedom accorded him. We, who are used to it treat it as commonplace and therefore do not fully appreciate its great value. Let us give more thought to the virtues and beauty of our country and our towns so that we may the better appreciate them.

The Week in Ottawa

Specially Written for The Huntingdon Gleaner By DENT HODGSON Canadian Press Staff Writer. OTTAWA (CP)—Wheat held the spotlight on the Ottawa stage last week as the government considered a 1946 policy aimed at maintaining production at high war levels and conserving as much wheat as possible for shipment to a starving world.

Three other points are aimed at getting food to starving countries as soon as possible: marketing of wheat held by farmers on their farms will be encouraged, reduction of inventories of wheat and wheat products is urged, and increased quantities of oats and No. 4 wheat will be made available for export if possible.

Do We Value Our Freedom? THE resident of any locality or country is always the last one to appreciate the beauty and virtues of the place in which he lives. The man or woman who never goes beyond the borderlines of his or her own domain is never able to appreciate the differences between one place and another.

we are so short here". Barber—"No doubt some of it gets over there, but there is usually a shortage at this time of year, but never as much as it is now".

The buzz of the clippers, or the scrape of the razor continues for a time without further comment. Another theme flashes through the mind of the customer and he says—"There's going to be quite a lot of building in Huntingdon this summer, I believe!" Barber—"That's what they say, but they said last year and only one or two houses were built. It would be a good thing if they did build some houses so that people could have them to live in instead of being crowded up

The World Is Hungry For Bread

I listened the other evening to a young airman telling the story of his experience in the Allied landing on the coast of Normandy, and in describing the dangers and difficulties of that operation, the thing that he emphasized most, and which seemed to have remained most vividly in his memory, was the lack of bread. He said there were plenty of other things to eat, but there was no bread for days, and the men starved and died, and he said that he was starved when at last a shipload of bread was brought across the channel and the loaves were be-distributed in the camp, there was a wild scramble. The men could not wait for the bread to be served to them at their meals, but thronged around the newly-arrived truck and fought for the precious loaves, catching them in the air as they were scattered amongst them.

When they arrived in Holland, the young airman said they found the people starving. Children would gather around the airfield begging for food and rummaging through kitchen garbage, grabbing at crusts and pieces of stale bread with which they would rush off to their homes as if they had found the "pearl of great price".

The Week in News Spotlight

Specially Written for The Huntingdon Gleaner By NORMAN ALTSTEDTER Canadian Press Staff Writer. Developments in Canada's dramatic espionage investigation took on added interest at the weekend as the scene shifted to a Montreal courtroom where Rose, Labor-Progressive member of Parliament for Montreal Centre, came up for preliminary hearing on a charge of unlawfully communicating information to the Soviet Union.

Mr. King's announcement outlining a conservation program to reduce wheat available for domestic milling; a 50 per cent reduction in wheat for distilling purposes, and a campaign to encourage saving by consumers of wheat products and encourage home production.

As the Throne Speech debate progresses, criticism of the government's housing and reconversion performance came from all sides of the house. Opposition members said the reconversion program had "bogged down", and that government steps to meet the housing crisis were "hopelessly inadequate".

There are four barber shops in Huntingdon, and in recent years there has developed a type of barber shop for the ladies, known as beauty shops—Huntingdon has five of these. If it were possible to place a teletype in each one of these, what a wealth of news could be gathered from the various conversations throughout every day. It would probably be found that the barber shop and the beauty shop are still reminiscent of the days of the Barber Shop Quartet, but minus the singing.

Premier Stalin's expressions of conviction that neither the nations of the world nor their armies seek war was greeted with mixed reaction by observers of the international scene, who on one hand expressed relief at the Soviet leader's remarks and on the other, guarded watchfulness for the next Russian move which would tell just how Stalin's sermon would be practiced.

In his written replies to questions from an Associated Press correspondent, the Russian leader castigated "certain political groups," who, he said, were sponsoring a propaganda campaign which was "sowing the seeds of discord and uncertainty." He said he attached great importance to the United Nations organization as "a serious instrument for the preservation of peace and international security" and on this point observers pointed out that Russia's position in Iran will be one of the first subjects the U.N.O. will consider at its meeting in New York next week.

Stalin's call for "a wide counter-propaganda" against persons and groups whom he termed "adversaries of a new war" was met with suspicion by advocates of a free press in the western democratic sense. In it they were inclined to see the threat of government control of public expression.

COOKING OF CEREALS

You would never think of trying to operate an automobile on an empty fuel tank. Yet many people attempt to do half a day's work on practically an empty stomach. You have heard the saying—"You can't eat like a bird and work like a horse". It is necessary that we re-fuel each morning with a good substantial breakfast.

No other meal receives so little thought in its planning and preparation. Breakfasts should not be of the hit-and-run fashion. Although they follow more or less the same pattern, variety should still be the keynote.

The home economists of the Consumer Section, Dominion Department of Agriculture suggest serving hot cereals. They are economical, give variety and at the same time supply that "morning energy" so needful for success. In order to serve a hot cereal which will be palatable and give consistently good results, a few simple rules must be followed.

To ascertain the best cooking methods the Consumer Section asked the Household Science departments of Canadian Universities to co-operate with them in conducting an experimental project. The tests were extensive; the proportion of water to the cereal was varied, also the amount of salt required and the length of cooking time. In addition, all methods most commonly used in Canadian homes were tried out, and the following rules for cooking "regular" and "quick-cooking" rolled oats were those generally conceded to be best.

ROLLED OAT PORRIDGE

(Using regular rolled oats)
1 cup regular rolled oats
3 cups boiling water
½ teaspoon salt
Start cooking cereal in top of

Sprinkle cereal gradually into the boiling, salted water, stirring constantly to prevent lumping. Keep water boiling to prevent cereal from becoming sticky. Boil over direct heat for 5 minutes, then cook covered for 1 hour over boiling water, stirring only occasionally. Makes about 3 cups.

To reduce time of cooking in double boiler, soak cereal in the specified amount of water overnight, then bring to boil and cook over direct heat for 5 minutes. Finish cooking in double boiler for 30 minutes.

If wheat germ is added, use 2 tablespoons wheat germ per cup of raw cereal.

ROLLED OAT PORRIDGE

(Using quick-cooking rolled oats)
1 cup quick-cooking rolled oats
¾ cup boiling water
1 teaspoon salt
Sprinkle cereal gradually into the boiling, salted water, stirring constantly to prevent lumping. Keep water boiling to prevent cereal from becoming sticky. Boil over direct heat for 3 minutes, then cover and cook for 10 minutes over boiling water. Makes about ¾ cups.

CRACKED WHEAT CASSEROLE

¾ cup cracked wheat
¾ cup boiling water
1 teaspoon salt
¼ cup thinly sliced onion
1 tablespoon fat
2 cups canned tomatoes or
1½ cups tomato juice
¾ teaspoon salt
Dash cayenne pepper
1½ teaspoons catsup
1 cup grated cheese
Sprinkle gradually the cracked wheat into the boiling, salted water, stirring constantly until thickened. Cook for 2 hours over boiling water. Meanwhile cook onions in fat until tender. Add tomatoes, cover and simmer for 10 minutes. Add ¼ teaspoon salt, cayenne pepper and catsup. In a greased casserole arrange alternate layers of the cereal, tomatoes and cheese, with the cheese as top layer. Bake in a moderately hot oven, 375°F. for 30 minutes. Serve with green beans or cabbage salad. Six servings.

CEREAL-PRUNE WHIP

1½ cups cooked prunes (½ lb. dried)
¾ cup cold cooked rolled oats (quick-cooking or regular)
¾ cup milk
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
Dash salt
3 tablespoons sugar
1 egg white
Remove pits from prunes and mash. Add porridge, milk, cinnamon, salt and half the sugar. Beat egg white until stiff; gradually beat in remaining sugar and fold into prune mixture. Chill thoroughly and serve plain or with a custard sauce. Six servings.

THE SPRING THAW

will affect running times TEMPORARILY

To co-operate with the highway authorities of the Province of Quebec, during the spring thaw period, Provincial Transport coaches will operate at a speed not exceeding 30 miles per hour.

This means that scheduled departure times will be adhered to as closely as possible at all starting points, but the coaches may lose time en route and arrive at the end of their runs slightly behind their usual schedules.

Also, on certain highways, where the effects of the spring thaw are very pronounced, motorcoach services will be suspended entirely for the duration of the spring thaw period.

We regret any inconvenience to our passengers, but they will understand our desire to co-operate with the Provincial Government in the preservation of our highways.

For subsequent changes in service, listen to the Provincial Transport broadcasts over Radio Stations CJAD and CKAC.

Wedding Anniversary Celebrated

Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Elder, of Elgin, celebrated their 69th wedding anniversary on Saturday evening with their immediate family present. Mrs. Nellie Cairns was also present, and was one of the few left among their acquaintances who was present at their marriage 69 years ago. The bride and groom were the recipients of gifts, flowers and numerous cards, etc., and their many friends also extend their best wishes to them on this happy occasion.

The United Church Women's Missionary Society held its March meeting at the home of Mrs. E. A. McHardy, on Friday afternoon. Various members took part in both the worship service and the missionary study for the day, "Builders Together with God," "What of Tomorrow?" being the topics. For the past few months this group has enjoyed the interesting study on Africa; this month completed it in her concluding one can look back to think of the total impact of Dr. Walter Currie a vision of the future and of the on the Angola Mission and to gain responsibility that rests on us as laborers with God in the building of the Angola church. Plans were made for the Easter thank-offering meeting next month. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess at the close of the afternoon.

The many friends of Mrs. Myrtle Stewart will be glad to know of the continued improvement in her condition, following her recent operation in the Montreal General Hospital.

Mr. Andrew Mack has been a recent guest at the home of his son and family at Mile Boches, Ontario. The National Film Board pictures were shown on Monday afternoon in Munro Hall to the pupils of the local and surrounding schools. Among those shown were: 1, "The Singing Pipes"; 2, "Canadian Screen Magazine"; 3, "The World in Action"; 4, "Canadian Work and Wealth."

"Weaving"

Weaving in and out of traffic is a dangerous practice, not only to the driver doing it but also to other drivers on the highway.

There is little to be gained by it, and everything to be lost. The amount of time saved in 20 miles of driving in this unsafe manner is almost negligible and certainly is not worth the risk.

For every yard of roadway made by the "weaving" driver, scores of other drivers are thrown into confusion and the orderly progress of traffic is disturbed and delayed. Moving the greatest number of vehicles on a highway at the highest safe speed requires order.

The weaving driver is a menace, both to himself and to others.

Stay in line—be orderly respect the rights of others.

out as the starting places for greater service." (b) Address by Mrs. A. Roger Self, president of the Dominion Board of the Women's Missionary Society of the United Church of Canada, Toronto. The speaker said that Christian women have a task to do in helping to replace the wreckage of war with the reconstruction of peace. Mrs. Self said that a sincere rededication to the work was called for and the willingness to face new responsibilities. In conclusion, she said: "Let us be enthusiastic about our work." (c) Address by Miss Vera Boyd, missionary nurse now on furlough from Central India, who stressed the need for more nurses, teachers and other missionary workers to help in the education, medication and evangelization of the people of India. She said that the ratio of nurses was only one to 60,000 people and that India needed food as 75 per cent of the people lived at starvation level. Miss Boyd said nothing could stop Paul when he received the call and that if our youth really knew India, they too would go.

Mention was made of a few absent members and special mention of Mrs. R. E. Ness and Mrs. Agnes Black. It is hoped they will be back in our midst again very soon. A beautiful poem entitled "Wishing" was read by Mrs. W. Craig. The meeting closed by repeating the Mizpah benediction in unison.

Sunday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Parent were Mrs. Joseph Leroux, Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Beland, Mr. and Mrs. J. Louis Desrosiers and sons Andre and Claude, of Verdun, and Mr. Albert Leroux, of Toronto.

Roast loin of lamb should prove a popular choice for ushering in another week of good eating. It calls for a flavor partner of mint jelly or sauce, and in honour of Saint Patrick serve a green vegetable favorite. On Monday the cold meat will team pleasantly with a fluffy combine of mashed potato and turnip and a dash of creamed celery. Well suited to the meatless Tuesday fashion are crisp waffles topped with creamed eggs and accompanied by some colorful vegetables to keep your family vitamin and mineral healthy. Braised short ribs of beef will provide a succulent meal for Wednesday, and sausages are a token-ponny-wise purchase for Thursday. For Friday a jellied fish loaf centering a pitcher of cold greens would bring an accent of spring to the table, and could be preceded by bowls of warming soup. Minute steaks make a quickly prepared and taste-tempting meal for Saturday. Remaining will be two tokens to augment your purchases for the unexpected guest, or to bid your lunch-time.

Parisian Stylists Praise All-Moda

PARIS—(CP)—One can say today with reasonable certainty that women will wear clothes this spring and summer and the clothes they will be good looking. At the moment, a woman wearing anything short of a filigreed barrel can have some degree of assurance that some Paris designer has said it is high style. In the past couple of days, Jean Patou, Paquin and Robert Piguet have shown their collections each full to brimming with beautifully made clothes which are easily worn. But each has arrived at very different conclusions. Patou, for instance, sticks firmly by quite short skirts for day-time wear. His skirts are about the shortest of any of the big houses. He still likes exaggerated shoulders, and is accentuating them in some of his dressier clothes with inserts and jacket work. His suits have long jackets and accentuated waistlines. Paquin has turned out a typically beautiful series of dresses, coats and those famous glittering evening clothes. The house seems particularly fond of very full coats, slim suits and gay prints. And then there's Piguet with padded but round shoulder lines, lots and lots of tiny boleros with street dresses and evening clothes and a whole line of slim backed dresses with an extremely full grouping of pleats in front. Hats continue primarily to be boaters. There's not much light fur being shown. Sunback dresses don't seem to be important in anyone's book.

WEDDING

POIRIER—McCRACKEN

The marriage of Margaret Emma, second daughter of the late William F. McCracken and of Mrs. McCracken, to Mr. John Joseph Poirier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Poirier, of Lachine, took place recently in St. Andrew and St. Paul Presbyterian Church. The Rev. Ritchie Bell officiated at the ceremony and Mr. Kenneth Meek, was at the organ. Mr. Victor Lewis, uncle of the bride, sang, "I Love You Truly" and "O, Promise Me" during the signing of the register.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Mr. Elmer Prier, wore a gown of white satin and silk lace, fashioned on princess lines, the skirt ending in a short train. She wore a finger-tip veil and carried a bouquet of red roses.

Mrs. Vera McCracken, sister of the bride, as bridesmaid, was in a gown of wine taffeta fashioned on simple lines with a headdress of yellow tulle and carried a bouquet of daffodils.

Mr. Ralph Poirier was best man for his brother and the ushers were Mr. David Rose and Mr. Alan Clayton.

Mrs. McCracken, mother of the bride, wore a blue wool suit with a small black hat, and a corsage of sweet peas. Mrs. Poirier, mother of the bridegroom was unable to attend, on account of illness.

The reception which followed the ceremony took place at the home of the bride's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Prier, 1550 Mackay street, where the bride's table was employed by the wedding cake, was decorated with tall white candles in silver candle holders.

Going away the bride wore a silver raccoon fur coat with matching hat over a fuchsia crepe dress, with black accessories.

Following a brief honeymoon at the Chateau Laurier in Ottawa, Mr. and Mrs. Poirier will take up residence in Lachine.

Need For Teen-Age Girls' Club Stressed By Welfare Group

MONTREAL—(CP)—General and urgent need for teen-age girls' clubs in Montreal—similar to existing boys' clubs—has been stressed following a panel discussion by a number of members of welfare groups.

Mrs. N. Vall of Ivery Community Centre said a good recreational program for young people would not solve the problem of juvenile delinquency although it certainly would help to check it because "basically, our youth needs good solid families, good homes, schools and churches."

Mrs. M. Kennedy of the Juvenile Court said child delinquency was a symptom of maladjustment in society and urged great care in organization of girls' clubs because "we must give the girls what they want, within limits, and not offer them what we think they should get."

Mrs. N. Naylor of the Girls' Counseling Centre said there was great need of leisure-time activity for girls because they learned "no good" hanging around small restaurants and stores. Although the compulsory school attendance act in Quebec had bettered the situation somewhat, a great number of girls still wanted to leave school at 14 and go to work.

P. J. Dalton, head of the Boys' Bureau, Federation of Catholic Charities, said that 85 per cent of juvenile delinquency occurred during leisure hours as "crime and delinquency in young people are the result of the search for adventure."

them, is the better answer. Good hospital care is the main goal.—Campbellton (N.B.) Tribune.

A lustrous, lasting shine... in no time!

More than two generations ago—in grandmother's day—mothers first discovered Vicks VapoRub. Today it is the most widely used home remedy for relieving miseries of children's colds. And here is the reason... The moment you rub VapoRub on the throat, chest and back at bedtime it starts to work two ways at once—and keeps on working for hours—to ease coughing spasms, help clear congestion in cold-clogged upper breathing passages, relieve muscular soreness or tightness. It promotes restful sleep. Often most of the misery of the cold is gone by morning! That's why VapoRub is so good to use when colds strike. Try it!

Why VICKS VAPORUB Is So Good For Relieving Miseries of Childrens Colds

Long distance lines are still HUMMING

WITH MORE TELEPHONES in use than ever before, and people using them more, the number of Long Distance calls keeps going up and up.

We are training hundreds of new operators, adding many miles of new circuits and installing new switchboards to handle them. Everything possible is being done—but it does take time.

Until the job is done we will continue to need your co-operation. It is helpful when you observe the proper sequence in placing your calls with the operator and when you keep your talks as brief as possible.

When you call: FIRST, give Long Distance the name of the city you are calling.

THEN the number of the distant telephone. (If you do not know the number make a note of it for future use when you hear the operator repeat it.)

THEN when the operator asks for it, give her the number of the telephone from which you are calling.

Please avoid unnecessary details.

W.C.T.U. Meeting
The monthly meeting of Huntingdon W.C.T.U. was held at the home of Mrs. Agnes Hamilton, on March 15. The president, Mrs. W. Middlemiss, conducted the meeting. Minutes of last meeting were approved and reports from departments followed. Mrs. Antoine, supt. of Little White Ribbons, reported a party given to the boys and girls (juniors) who had written exams in the temperance study course. Plans were made to send comfort bags to the Sailors' Institute, Montreal. It being the annual meeting, election of officers followed: President, Mrs. W. Middlemiss; vice-president, Mrs. Knowles; cor. secretary, Mrs. R. Gentle; rec. secretary, Mrs. R. Munro; treasurer, Miss E. Elder. As Mrs. Hamilton is leaving Huntingdon to reside in Ontario, the Union presented her with a nice hand-bag. Mrs. R. Sellar made the presentation. Mrs. Hamilton, with members assisting, served dainty refreshments and a social hour was enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. James H. Barrington, Tommy and Bert, of Verdun, were week-end guests of Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Barrington.

Mrs. F. Rennie has received word that her son, J. G. Rennie, who is overseas, has been promoted from the rank of captain to major. Major Rennie, of the Black Watch, went overseas in 1944.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Hunter have returned from Toronto after spending two weeks with their daughter, Mrs. Nell Morrison.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Stevenson, of Verdun, spent the week-end at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Moody.

Plague of Frogs
One often hears the saying "Raining Cats and Dogs" and a "Peasoup Fog," but motorists travelling along the Montreal-Malone Highway just past Log Lodge, on Monday evening, thought that frogs were just appearing from nowhere. There was a heavy mist or fog at the time and the frogs were so thick on the road as to make it quite slippery and dangerous for cars. The drivers could see the frogs leaping back and forth across the road, in the headlights of the car, in great numbers.

Sunday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. McWhinnie were: Mr. and Mrs. R. McGregor, of Notre Dame de Grace; Mr. and Mrs. H. McDowell, of Massena, N.Y.; Mr. and Mrs. M. McWhinnie, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McFarlane and four children, of St. Johns, Que.; Mr. and Mrs. E. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. N. Clifford and son, of Valleyfield. Miss M. McWhinnie, of Tullochgorum, is visiting at present at the same home.

Farewell to Treasurer
The Dutch Club held a farewell party on Thursday, March 21, to honor their treasurer, Andrew S. MacKay, who is leaving Huntingdon to reside in Nitro, Que. After a splendid "jiggs" dinner, Mr. MacKay was presented with a cheque from the members in recognition of his faithful services to the club, all of whom wished Mrs. MacKay and himself a happy and prosperous life in their new home. Mr. MacKay in an appropriate speech thanked his fellow members for their loyal support during his tenure of office and regretted deeply his having to leave friends who have made his life such a pleasure in Huntingdon. Mr. Jack Heald was appointed as successor to Mr. MacKay as treasurer.

New Ford Car Arrives at Empire Garage Showroom

Has Many Features That Make it Commendable To Motorist

Happiest man in Huntingdon on Saturday, was Mr. Folsy, in whose showroom at the Empire Garage, the new 1946 Ford car went on display for the first time.

"There's no doubt about it," enthused Mr. Folsy, "compared with their immediate predecessors, these cars pack more styling, engine and chassis improvements than we've seen in any one model since they first introduced the V-8's back in 1932."

"Examination of both the De Luxe and Super De Luxe lines—the two classifications under which these first new Fords since the war are being manufactured—reveals 20 important improvements have been made in their V-8 power plants alone," said Mr. Folsy.

"In addition, new ride controls are featured, including a rear lateral stabilizer which results in greater steadiness and steering ease, especially on rough roads."

He pointed also to sweeping departures in body styling and interior appointments.

"You get a sense of greater over-all body length and breadth from the body styling, which begins with the massive front bumper, full-width three-bar grille, and new ornamental nameplate," said Mr. Folsy. "Fender and hood moulding strips heighten this impression."

The De Luxe and Super De Luxe lines are mounted on 114" wheel-base chassis and both are powered by the improved V-8, 90-horsepower motor. The De Luxe is manufactured in Tudor, Fordor and Coupe models while the more expensive Super De Luxe line includes, besides the above three, Sedan Coupe, a Convertible Coupe and a Station Wagon.

Chassis refinements common to both De Luxe and Super De Luxe include multi-leaf springs having thinner, more numerous leaves, providing not only a smoother ride but also a level appearance under full passenger load. A shoppeened main leaf provides the element of maximum spring life. Another feature of the springing is the introduction of synthetic rubber spring shackles, bushings, which are oil resistant and have greater longevity.

Quiet, self-centering hydraulic brakes will require less frequent adjustment but when such becomes necessary, the adjustment operation has been simplified by new

Hemingford

Mrs. H. A. D. Somerville entertained five tables of "500" at her home on Friday evening, March 22nd. First prize was won by Mrs. J. P. Simpson and second Mrs. Albert McKay, and consolation Mrs. Delphis Duteau. Delicious refreshments were served at midnight by the hostess, which brought a most delightful evening to a close.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Hauver spent Thursday in Montreal.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Stewart and little daughter Jane spent the past week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Earle Martin, of St. Johns, Que.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Gebbie have returned from their trip to the West Coast. Mrs. Gebbie states that the weather out there was beautiful with flowers in bloom. If the weather-man continues with the warm sunny weather, the flowers will soon be blooming here, too, so while the city folk are all enjoying the advanced spring weather, the farmers are not too joyful for fear they might experience another year like the last one.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Cookman and little son Clifford, and Mr. Douglas MacKenzie, of Verdun, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hébert.

Mr. and Mrs. Earle Martin, of St. Johns, were recent week-end guests of Mrs. Martin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Fisher.

Miss Betty Miller spent the week-end with her little friend, Elsie Hadley.

Mr. and Mrs. Lynwood Cookman and two sons Raymond and Billy were Sunday guests of Mrs. G. E. Cottingham, of Ormstown.

Mrs. W. S. Cookman returned to her home here with them after spending the winter months with her sister.

Mr. A. Arshinoff and son Morton, of Montreal, were Wednesday guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. Fisher.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Gosling, of Huntingdon, were Sunday callers in town.

Mrs. D. F. Orr and Mrs. Halton Kennedy spent Friday in Montreal.

To our Employees:

For some weeks, the Company for whom you are now working has given serious thought to a further increase in wages — application was made to the Regional War Labour Board of the Province of Quebec for permission to make this further increase in hourly and piece work rates, and which will apply generally throughout the mill.

At a meeting of the Board held in Montreal on Tuesday, the 26th March, approval was given to our request, and the new scale of wages will go into effect as at Monday morning, the 25th March 1946.

Anti-Pasteurization Arguments Not Sound Says Health League

Studies Carried Out on Large Numbers of Children Show That Those Fed on Pasteurized Milk Thrive as Well as Those Fed Raw Milk

Opponents of the principle of pasteurizing milk to make it safe for human consumption have made much of "natural milk"—a term which is basically unsound when it is applied to cow's milk that is being used for human consumption, states the Health League of Canada which at present is engaged in a Dominion-wide campaign to obtain provincial legislation calling for compulsory pasteurization. Ontario is the only province at present with such a law—a law which has resulted in drastic reduction of milk-borne diseases in that province.

Pasteurization is a simple, harmless, effective additional safeguard which should be insisted on over and above all sanitary precautions. To be completely safe, milk must come from certified animals, it must be cleanly handled, and it must be pasteurized.

The argument that clean milk need not be pasteurized doesn't hold because, while clean milk is essential from a sanitary point of view, even if it can carry germs if it is unpasteurized. True, clean milk safeguards health to a certain extent in that from it is eliminated much disease-carrying dirt. However, it is not dependably safe.

There is no evidence to support the argument that pasteurization destroys any food element of which milk has an adequate supply. Properly carried out, pasteurization does not injuriously affect the taste of milk or the separation of the cream. Studies carried out on large numbers of children have shown that those who are fed on pasteurized milk thrive just as well as those to whom raw milk is given.

Once again, the Health League wishes to emphasize that Canadians do not have to drink disease-carrying raw milk. All milk can be made safe through pasteurization.

If the commercially pasteurized product is unavailable to them, Canadians can make their milk safe themselves. The Health League of Canada, 111 Avenue Road, Toronto 5, Ontario, can supply details of easy home methods.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

The Editor,
The Huntingdon Gleaner.

Dear Sir: In The Huntingdon Gleaner, March 20, 1946, page six, is printed a letter to the effect that all milk should be pasteurized. As a farmer and dairyman who has delivered whole milk in Montreal for years, I consider it a very bold statement. In the first place, were the parents or grand-parents on both sides entirely free of such a malady? I am very much in favor of careful handling of milk from start to finish. If that is seen to, pasteurization is not necessary. Why did doctors ask me, as well as my neighbors, to supply milk to houses where there were babies? Often at short distances it would be used before the animal heat was off.

Towards the end of the article referred to it states that pasteurization does not harm the nutritive value of the milk (why pasteurize?) If these folk would cleanse their minds to the understanding that God Almighty put cows on this earth for man's use as meat and milk. Do they dare say that anything created by God is not pure and without fault. Therefore it does not require man's tampering. If man would use and not abuse the privilege granted, without seeking to find fault, the world would be a better place to live in.

Yours,
Farmer Dairyman.

Jobs Follow Organization

But Employers and Workers Must Assist

During the war organization of manpower was made possible through co-operation of employers and workers. This co-operation is no less necessary to assist in organizing the employment market during the present critical period. Some manpower controls still remain. These are still law. They are aimed at assisting in organizing the employment market. Remaining controls are designed to help employers and workers—and actually require only minor assistance from the public.

YOU ARE URGED TO COMPLY WITH THE FOUR CONTROLS WHICH REMAIN:

- 1—Employers MUST notify the National Employment Office of any need for workers, as soon as that need is known.
2—Where employers engage workers outside the National Employment Service they MUST notify the nearest NES Office within three days, that an employee has been engaged. (Form NSS 312 is provided for this purpose.)
3—Unemployed workers seeking employment MUST register with the National Employment Office if unemployed for seven consecutive days.
4—Generally speaking, any employer or employee MUST give seven days' notice to the other party of any intention to terminate employment. (Form NSS 120 is still required.) Exceptions may be learned from the nearest NES Office

The partners to industry—employers and employees—should help the National Employment Service to promote a high level of employment by complying with these simple rules. Only with public support can an employment service give full assistance to the community.

Make full use of the Local Office of the National Employment Service. It is there to serve your needs, and those of the entire Community.

Dundee

Farm Forum Meeting
The Dundee Farm Forum Group were entertained Monday evening, March 18, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Ferguson. The broadcast on this occasion rounded off the current season's discussions, on the overall extremely important theme—"The Farmer Feeds the World", a side question of which is "Can the World Be Fed?"

A startling statement was recently made that a billion people approximately half the world's population are threatened with starvation this winter season. This crisis is partly due to the ravages of war but even in the best of times it is estimated that two-thirds of the people of the world do not have enough to eat at any time. This does not mean of course that they are necessarily starving but rather that they suffer from malnutrition—not having sufficient quantities of the right kinds of foods.

Whether the world will ever be properly fed is a highly debatable question but in this connection it can be noted that the U.N. Food Conference after careful consideration of all the factors involved declared "the goal of freedom from want of food suitable and adequate 2 1/2 acres of arable land are required for the health and strength of all peoples, can be achieved."

Facts to be faced:
Under present conditions to feed each human being adequately. The total area of land under cultivation at the present time is 4 billion acres.

The population of the world is slightly over 2 billion—one person for every 2 acres of land. In India the area under cultivation averages 9 acres per capita, as compared with 8 acres of improved land per capita in Canada, according to 1941 census figures. So it is quite plain that more land will have to be brought under cultivation and cultivation methods will have to be greatly improved if enough food is to be produced for all the people of the world.

Agricultural exporting countries like Canada can only provide food for a relatively few of the world's people. It is estimated that Canadian Agriculture produces food for 4 to 5 million people in addition to our own population. This is a mere drop in the bucket in relation to the needs of the hundreds of millions in Asia.

Steps taken by the Food and Agriculture organization of the United Nations to remedy the situation of starving millions should eventually lead to an expansion of world wide economy and the end of huge food surpluses which have at times bothered Canadian farmers. It should mean an expanding market for livestock and dairy products and for fruit and vegetables. It may mean a reversion to a specialized agricultural program. What in the prairies, livestock, fruit and vegetables in other parts of Canada. It will undoubtedly mean a better living. Generally, for even Canadians too must begin at home to remove the causes of malnutrition from which many suffer.

Miss Corabelle Elliott of Castleton, N.Y., spent the week-end at the home of her sister, Mrs. H. S. Smith. She attended the funeral services of her cousin, Mrs. Irving Merrick, of Fort Covington, N.Y., which were held from her late residence in Fort Covington, on Sunday afternoon. She had been ill all winter and was at the home of her son, Dr. Hollis Merrick, who lives down state. She leaves to mourn her loss, her husband, Mr. Irving Merrick and four sons.

SPORTS EDITORIAL
PUCKS AND PILLBOXES
AFTERMATH of total war—marked by suffering in Europe—reached into the lighter side in North America and this winter Canada's national sport felt the effect of the national apathy of 1939-45. Paying customers, flushed with wartime prosperity, saw some of their favorites forced to the sidelines, unable to keep pace in a game in which rule makers seem to have sacrificed science for speed.

Vagaries of hockey are strange even under normal conditions, but seldom has the game seen such a decline as that of the world champion Toronto Maple Leafs in the National League. Using a combination of rookies still young enough for scout leagues and players too old for military call-up the Leafs skated spectacularly to the Stanley Cup just a year ago. When they assembled at Owen Sound last fall bolstered by returning servicemen, training camp gossip stamped the Leafs as the team to beat in hockey's only major league. But the club was strong on paper only—it started poorly and failed to gather steam, except in spurts. A glance at the standings now shows the Leafs not even included in the top four teams which will battle to succeed the Toronto team as champion of the world. But the game, continued in Canada during war days with Government approval to boost civilian morale, has found steady legs in its first peacetime season in six years. There is every indication it may become a leading international sport. The United Kingdom, sold on the ice game before the war, wants many Canadians next season to play with such clubs as Earlscourt Rangers and Wembley Lions. Hockey is booming in Russia and the Soviet wants Canadians to coach their teams. France is particularly interested in attracting French-Canadians to the ice palaces of Paris.

Not many years ago thoughts of scheduled international play between North American teams and the rest of the world would have been branded impractical. But again war may have another effect on hockey, advances in aviation making it feasible for a Moscow team to play in Toronto, New York and London all in the same week.

Can Diet Affect The Condition Of Erupted Teeth?

A: Erupted teeth are influenced by diet in two ways. First of all we must remember that the outer layer of the crown of a human tooth (enamel) is spoiled by acid action. Therefore, we must keep the environment of these teeth from becoming acid. Some of the foods we eat, if left about our teeth, ferment and form acids which dissolve the lime content out of the enamel, making them easy prey to decay. Therefore, it is imperative to frequently brush the teeth thoroughly; removing food debris, by using a good brushing technique, with a mildly alkaline and detergent dentifrice. Second, a balanced diet, including eggs, fresh vegetables, fruits, whole grain cereals, butter, fish liver oils and milk. This type diet contains the biochemical ingredients needed for the tooth building processes of the body. The assimilation of proper ingredients for tooth tissue is an advantage as a defence against rapid progress of decay.
